

SWEEPING CUTS ARE PRESCRIBED IN EXPRESS RATES

As a Result of a Searching Investigation by Interstate Commerce Commission, REDUCTIONS TO REDUCE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Commission Thinks Conclusions Reached Constitute a Long Step Towards Solving Greatest Problem of American Householder—Drastic Reforms Prescribed.

Washington, July 14.—Sweeping reductions in express rates averaging, in general, approximately 15 per cent; drastic reforms in regulations and practices, and comprehensive changes in the methods of operation, are prescribed in a report made public today by the interstate commerce commission of its investigation into the business of the thirteen great express companies of the United States.

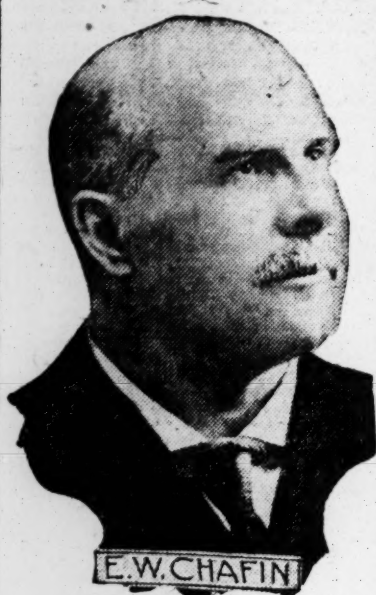

Dealing with the identity of interest between the various companies, the report finds that while these companies are separate legal entities "it is of interest to regard this fact by stock ownership and otherwise they are so interrelated, intertwined and interlocked that it is with difficulty we can trace any one of the greater companies as either wholly independent in its management or the agency of a single railroad system. So that while these companies operate separately and compete with each other for traffic, the express business may be said to be almost a family affair. An interesting genealogical tree, in fact, might be drawn showing a common ancestry in all of the larger companies. And while many names may be used to designate these companies, it is within the fact to say that aside from the operations of the minor and distinctively railroad express companies, the express business of the United States is managed by not more than three groups of interests."

The inquiry was the most extensive, and in wealth of detail, probably the most thorough, ever prosecuted by the commission. It was conducted and the report was prepared by Commissioner Franklin K. Lane. It has been in progress for nearly three years. The report itself makes 600 printed pages. It involved an examination and comparison of practically more than 600,000 express rates in effect in this country. In addition to an examination of millions of waybills and an investigation through the books of the companies, of their financial operations and business methods.

To Reduce Cost of Living. Commissioner Lane is of opinion that the conclusion reached constitute a long step towards the solution of that gravest problem of the American householder, the high cost of living. The greatest reduction of rates proposed.

WATERY DEATH POURS ON ALTON

Cloudburst Passes Over the Illinois City Three Times.

Four Persons Drowned and Property Loss Estimated at $250,000—Wall of Water Nine Feet Deep Rushed Through the Streets.

St. Louis, July 14.—Four persons were drowned at Alton, Ill., today by a cloudburst which destroyed two miles of streets, wrecked six buildings and the gas plant of the Alton Gas and Electric company, with a total property loss of $250,000.

The cloudburst followed a spectacular storm which lasted all night. Three times it passed over Alton, flooding streets and cellars each time. The third time rain fell in torrents, sending a wall of water 9 feet deep through the principal business and residence streets.

Sewers broke, washing away the foundations of six residences, which dropped into the cellars.

A culvert under the gas plant of the Alton Gas and Electric company was washed out and the entire plant sank several yards.

The Dead.

The list of the dead follows:

MRS. FRANCIS MAGUIRE, 45 years old.

GOLDIE MAGUIRE, 3 years old.

MRS. HESTER MOSS, 45 years old.

ALICE BOYCE, 29 years old.

Wesley Moore, a boarder at the Maguire home, rescued his mother and two small children of Mrs. Maguire by lifting them to the roof of the house.

That more lives were not lost was due to William Doty, who ran through the streets ahead of the water, breaking windows with his bare hands and awakening sleeping families in time to permit them to reach safety. Many narrow escapes were reported.

A peculiar feature of the storm was the manner in which it hovered over

M'COMBS NAMED BY GOV. WILSON TO RUN CAMPAIGN

Democratic National Committee Will Ratify Selection of Governor at Chicago Today.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE TO DECIDE ALL ISSUES

And McCombs Will Carry Out Directions of the Committee—This Committee to Be Composed of Men Who Stood by Wilson in His Fight for the Nomination.

Seagirt, N. J., July 14.—Indications at Seagirt tonight, gathered from party leaders with whom Governor Wilson has been in constant consultation recently, are that William F. McCombs, of New York, is his choice for chairman of the democratic national committee; William G. McAdoo, of New Jersey, builder of the Hudson tunnels, or Senator James A. O'Gorman, of New York, for chairman, and Joseph E. Davies, national committeeman from Wisconsin, for secretary.

Wilson's Message to Committee.

As the contents of the message which Robert S. Hudspeeth, Governor Wilson's spokesman, is conveying to the national committee at Chicago for its action tomorrow, Governor Wilson has divulged no words. On the contrary he has consistently declined to speak for publication on that subject. His objection he bases on the fact that he is acting by courtesy of the national committee in placing his preference before it. To say what the message would contain in any particular, the governor or asserted, would be a distinct violation of that courtesy. Nevertheless, there is a unanimity of opinion among the nominee's close friends that the message will contain in addition to the foregoing, other suggestions, in substance as follows: "That the national campaign headquarters be fixed at New York with a branch at Chicago and another in a western city unnamed in the message.

That there will be no specific suggestion concerning the identity of the treasurer of the committee or the finance committee except that Henry Morgenthau, a wealthy real estate operator of New York, be given a place on the committee. Mr. Morgenthau contributed largely to the Wilson campaign fund for the ante-nomination fight and the governor's friends believe he will be given a prominent place on the finance committee if the governor's suggestion is followed.

The Campaign Committee.

"That the campaign committee consist of men who have stood by the governor in his fight for the nomination and will include Robert S. Hudspeeth, national committeeman from New Jersey; Joseph Daniels, national committeeman from North Carolina; Joseph E. Davies, national committeeman from Wisconsin; Senator O'Gorman, of New York, and Gore, of Oklahoma; Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania; Willard Saulsbury, national committeeman from Delaware; William G. McAdoo and W. M. F. McCombs.

There are three Texans upon one of whom the governor's friends assert, representation on the campaign committee may fall. They are Representatives Burleson and Henry and Judge Cato Selis. There is also a possibility, they say, that Senators Obadiah Gardner, of Maine, may be given a place on the committee. It is understood that there is no man in the list from a far western state. This, the governor's advisers say, is due to the fact that the nominee wishes his campaign committee to be as close to the national headquarters as possible so that a full meeting of members may be obtained if needed, with the least possible delay.

It is a part of the governor's plan, in the opinion of his friends, to have the campaign committee deal with all matters concerned with the campaign and that the national chairman be guided by a majority vote of the campaign committee in which he will, of course, have a vote. Mr. McCombs, they say, would thus be placed in a position where he could not act alone but only on the advice of seasoned political leaders.

Governor Wilson's friends assert that his plans regarding Mr. McCombs are that he act as director in chief of the campaign, or the advice of the campaign committee and that he make his headquarters in New York.

National Committeemen Under McCombs. It is also the governor's plan, according to his counselors, to request each national committeeman to direct, under McCombs, the campaign in his own state.

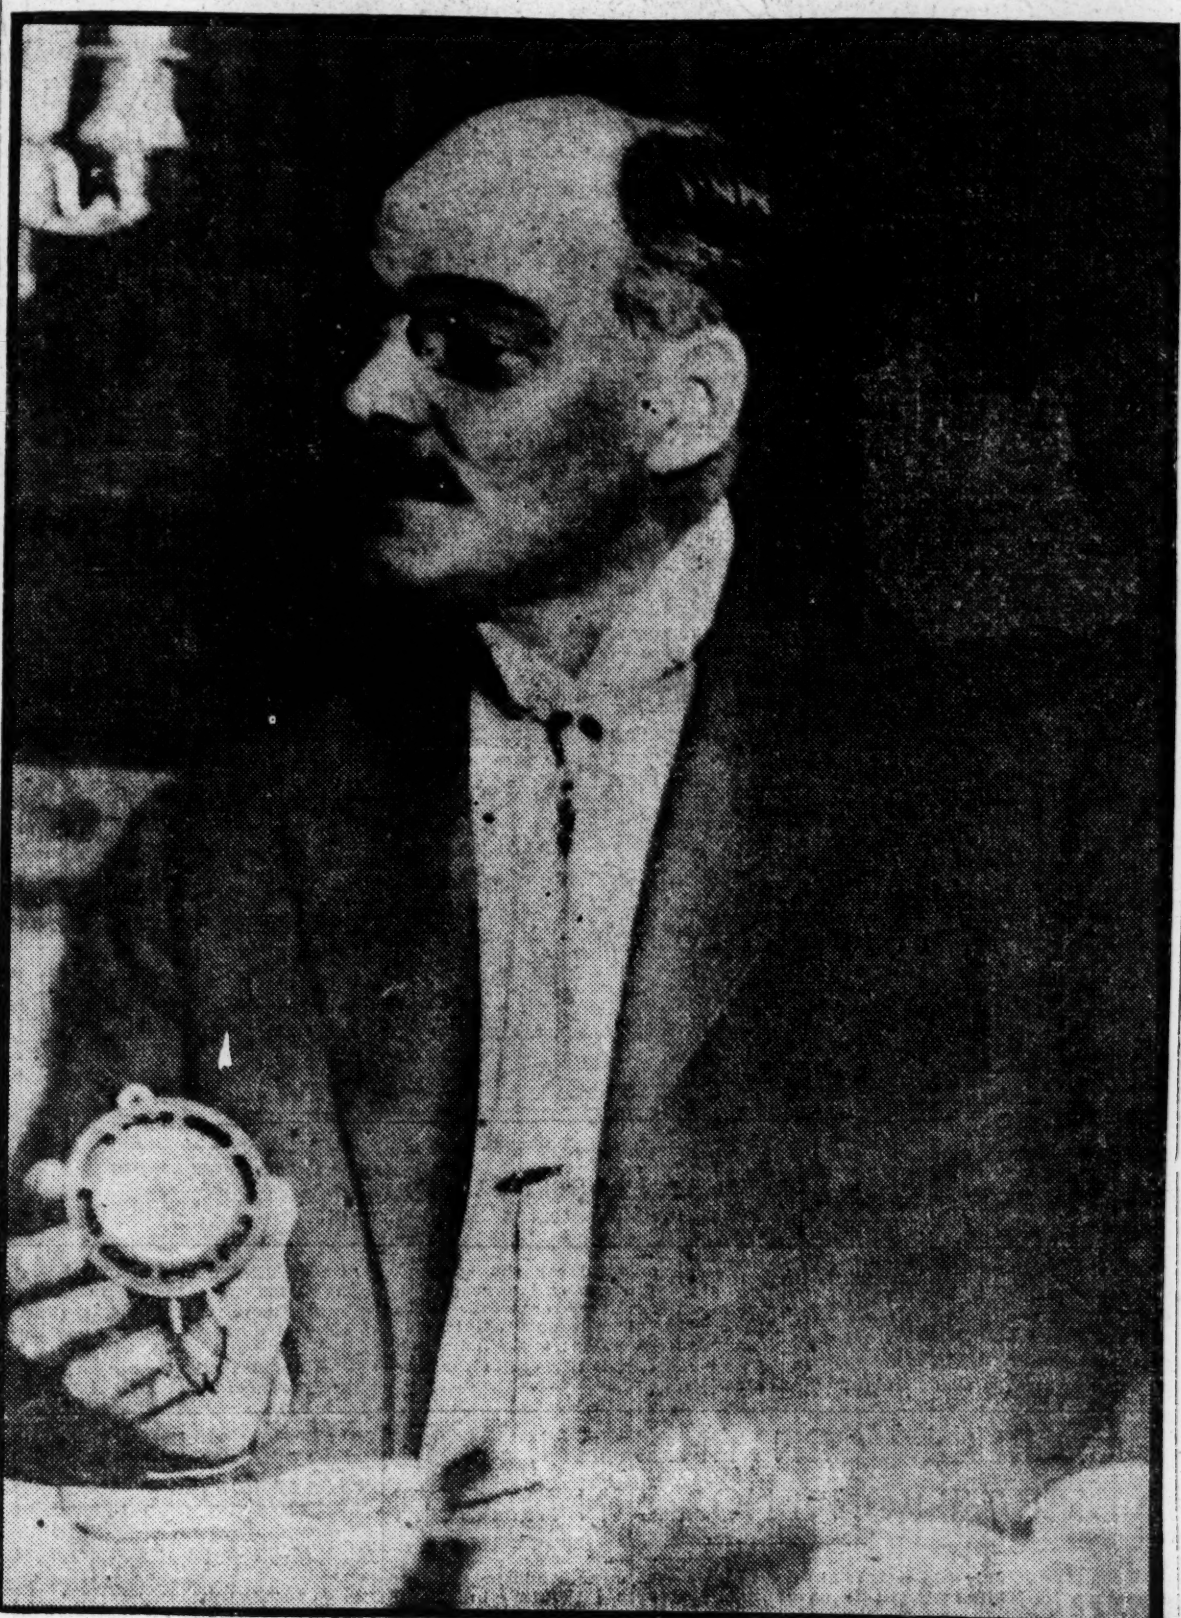

In selecting the men whom he will suggest as members of the campaign committee Governor Wilson has considered only those who can devote a considerable portion of their time to the work, his friends assert.

Publicity matters, it is understood, are not covered in the governor's message to the national committee, but will be left to those who can devote a considerable portion of their time to the work, his friends assert.

Thomas J. Pence as head of the publicity bureau. Mr. Pence was head of the Wilson publicity bureau in Washington. He was born in North Carolina and his early newspaper work

FELONY CHARGE AGAINST BLEASE

Felder Says Atlanta Jury Will Make Investigation.

Atlanta Lawyer Declares That He Is Perfectly Willing to Meet the Carolina Governor Anywhere Outside of That State.

A telegram relayed from Chicago was received by Detective Reed Sunday which bore the signature of Sam J. Nichols, a Spartanburg lawyer, who, it was said, represents Governor Blease in the sale of pardons. This telegram was sent to Attorney H. N. Porter, a non de plume adopted by Detective Reed in negotiating with Nichols for the release from the penitentiary of a notorious yeggman named Frederick O. Dentley, and requested that Porter come immediately to Spartanburg and close up the matter of a pardon for the yeggman. Reed swore at Augusta Saturday afternoon that he had decoyed Nichols into negotiations with him, and that he expected more developments. The telegram was received in Atlanta after it had been sent to Chicago, where the mythical Porter was supposed to be.

Governor Cole Blease, of South Carolina, will be indicted by an Atlanta grand jury for a felony, it is alleged, he committed in this city during his stay here while he was attending the commercial congress, held in 1911, according to Thomas B. Felder, who, in company with the Burns detective, E. S. Reed, returned to Atlanta from Augusta Sunday.

Both Detective Reed, who has been in charge of the investigation which resulted in the charges made against Governor Blease before the investigating committee from the South Carolina legislature at Augusta last week, and Mr. Felder spoke freely of the sensational evidence which may result in impeachment proceedings against the Carolina governor when they were seen Sunday afternoon.

The Blease Dictagraph.

The detective carried in his hand a small black bag, which, when opened, revealed the famous dictagraph with which he obtained most of the evi-

SWEAT KILLED BY J. O. BROWN

Latter's Alleged Relations With Former's Daughter Cause of the Trouble.

Waycross, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Upgraded by P. W. Sweat, section foreman, of Waycross, for alleged misconduct towards Sweat's young daughter, J. O. Brown, assistant yardmaster for the Atlantic Coast Line here, killed him this morning, firing four shots into his body.

One bullet pierced Sweat's abdomen and went through a lung. He lived several hours after being shot. He was 50 years old.

The exact nature of the trouble that caused the shooting is unknown beyond various allegations of Brown's intimacy with one of Sweat's daughters. Brown, who is 25 years old and unmarried, is held pending an investigation.

The shooting occurred in the Coast Line yards.

SUNDAY NEWSPAPERS BARRED AT RICHMOND

Richmond, Va., July 14.—Acting under instructions of Mayor D. C. Richardson and in the absence of the chief, the police today attempted to create a blue Sunday by forbidding all news boys to carry papers on the streets of Richmond. The mayor states that carrying papers on the streets disturbs the late sleepers.

Porras Panama President.

Panama, July 14.—The presidential elections which were held today throughout the republic were conducted in an orderly manner. All the electors belong to the Porras party, which insures the unanimous election of Dr. Belisario Porras on August 28th next, when the electoral assemblies convene. Pedro Diaz, the candidate of President Arosemena's government, convinced of the impossibility of election, withdrew at the last moment.

ROBBER INVADERS GRAND BUILDING

Lewis Bettman Awakes to Find Armed Man in Room.

A robber and his pistol invaded the Grand building in the early hours of this morning, and as a result Lewis Bettman, who has rooms on the third floor, is minus his watch and a pocket-book containing $80.

It was about 1 o'clock, according to Bettman's statement to the police, that he awakened to find someone in his room. He could see nothing and turned to reach for the light switch, when the burglar cautioned: "Don't move or I'll blow your brains out."

Then followed a hasty scramble and the intruder fled. It is not known how he entered or got out of the building, possibly by means of a fire escape.

CUBAN CONSUL MOYNELO DEAD AT SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., July 14.—A. E. Moynelo, formerly prominently identified with the struggles of Cuba for independence and latterly Cuban consul at Savannah, dropped dead at his home here tonight. He was about 60 years of age, married, the father of two children, and wealthy. At one time, the story is told, Moynelo was so hotly pressed by his Spanish enemies in Cuba that he was nailed in a barrel by his friends and shipped out of the island to the United States in that way. He has been consul here for a number of years.

John Mitchell Due in Court.

Washington, July 14.—John Mitchell, adjudged guilty of contempt of court with Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, is due to appear in court here tomorrow to waive his right to be present when sentence is passed, otherwise a bench warrant may be issued for his arrest. It is expected that if he does not appear his counsel will present a written waiver.

13 KILLED AND 20 HURT WHEN TRAINS GO TOGETHER

Fast Mail Plunges Into the Overland Express in a Suburb of Chicago.

WOMAN IN THE TOWER SAYS BLOCK WAS THROWN

She Collapsed When She Learned of the Accident—Although There Was a Dense Fog, the Fast Mail Plunged on at Full Speed and Telescoped the Crooked Express Train.

ATLANTA DEPUTY SHERIFF TELLS OF A GIRL'S HEROISM

Chicago, Ill., July 14.—(Special.) S. H. Owen, deputy sheriff of Fulton county, Georgia, was one of the victims of today's Burlington wreck, in which fourteen persons were killed and many injured. He pays a fine tribute to the heroism of Miss Elizabeth von Siebenthal, an 18-year-old high school girl of Salt Lake city. Miss von Siebenthal was in the first car struck and every other passenger was either killed or injured. Although badly hurt herself, she immediately set about assisting her companions, her face streaming with blood from several ugly gashes.

Mr. Owen was in the second car and after assuring himself of the safety of his wife and baby, rushed to assist the less fortunate in the first coach. He found Miss von Siebenthal hard at work and begged her to desist.

"I was dressing my baby when the mail train hit us," he said. "My wife was in the wash-room, so I grabbed the baby and ran to her. I left her and ran to the front of the rear car where I saw Miss von Siebenthal. She was crawling out of the wreckage on her hands and knees unassisted.

"The car was on fire and I begged the girl to get in an ambulance, but she remained in the car until everybody was taken out."

Chicago, July 13.—Thirteen persons were killed and fifteen to twenty were injured in a wreck on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad at Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago, at 6:30 a. m. today.

Coming through a fog with supped-up clear track ahead, train No. 8, a fast mail, ran at full speed into the rear of train No. 9, known as the Overland Express, from Denver, which was standing still on the track, telescoping two of the Overland's Pullman cars.

Railroad officials refused to fix blame until after the wreck had been investigated thoroughly. Mrs. F. A. Wilcox, who was in charge of the tower from which the block signals were controlled, said she was certain the block was thrown against both trains. She collapsed after the accident, and is still in a nervous condition.

taken from the rear coach of the Denver train.

The engine of No. 8 plowed through this car, halving it and crushing out the lives of helpless passengers, many of whom were still in their berths. On into the second coach the engine then sped. Half way through the car it veered to the left, derailing the sleeper. The engine was entirely stripped when it stopped.

Fire, starting from the gas lights in the sleeper, then broke out. Many victims, pinned down by heavy timbers and iron, prayed for death. Members of the fire departments of West-ern Springs and La Grange were on the scene within a few minutes after the wreck occurred, and they put out the fire with lines of hose.

Ghouls Robbed the Dead.
Ghouls are believed to have robbed the dead before they reached the morgue in La Grange. More than a dozen large diamond sets are missing from jewelry, and although most of the dead appeared to have been persons in comfortable circumstances, a dime was the largest sum of money found on any of the bodies.

Coroner Hoffman early in the afternoon ordered all of the bodies embalmed immediately, and impelled a jury to investigate the wreck.

Story of the Tower Woman.
In a little room above a business house in La Grange, Mrs. Wilcox told herself from visitors throughout the greater part of the day. The shades were drawn and she was trying to collect her thoughts. Finally she said:

"After thinking the whole affair over I have decided that I was not in any way to blame for the accident. I know the blocks were set against the train. It was not I that erred."

"Three trains instead of two passed the signals in violation of all rules, although it might have been that the engineers did not see the board."

"First, I heard No. 4, a train in no way connected with the wreck, pass. Then, in a few minutes, No. 2 came by. I thought something was wrong, and I began to try to think of something to do to stop the train from running by the board. But before I could get my wits together No. 8 had sped by. The crash followed."

Another way was suggested as to how the wreck may have occurred. It was that No. 2, having been blocked, by a signal, had sent a brakeman to set torpedoes to warn No. 8.

Didn't Hear Torpedoes.
No. 8 was coming down grade when the crash came. Persons responsible for the story of the torpedoes said that No. 8 had been given a signal that the track was clear, and that the crew had either failed to hear the torpedoes or had believed they had a clear track.

A relief train from Aurora got together all of the available physicians between that point and the wreck. Another wreck train was sent from Chicago.

A statement issued by P. S. Eustis, passenger traffic manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, tonight substantiated Mrs. Wilcox's assertion that she was not to blame, and also corroborated the story that torpedoes were set by the brakeman of No. 2. The statement does not fix the blame for the collision.

Going 70 Miles an Hour.
We were traveling about 70 miles an hour, when Brownson and I heard torpedoes exploded," he said.

"Then I saw a flagman on the track, about 150 feet from his train ahead. 'Crash,' said Brownson, 'there's a train ahead. I am afraid I can't stop in time to save us, but I am going to try.'"

He put his hand on the throttle and looked straight ahead. When I decided to jump, I turned and looked at him, and like the good engineer and brave man he was, he was sitting at the throttle, fighting for the lives of his passengers, but going to certain death. "I went clear of the engine and landed in a field. My breath left me for a few minutes. When I looked up the cars were burning."

"But for the torpedoes, we thought we had a clear track ahead. They came too late to do any good to us. All of the dead were taken to La Grange and laid on slabs in a barn. Throughout the day hundreds of persons called in an effort to identify the bodies."

Officials of the railroad will interrogate witnesses regarding the wreck at Aurora tomorrow.

Bruswick Politics.

Bruswick, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Bruswick politics has during the past two weeks been a hot and cold affair. It is to be a dull year gives up prospect of being the most heated of recent years. Two candidates, Alderman J. H. Leon and Alderman J. H. Hopkins, have already announced for mayor, and before the date of the primary, which has yet to be determined, it is predicted there will be several other entrants in the race. Mayor E. C. Butts, who will not offer for reelection. Four aldermen are also to be elected at the primary, and as two of the incumbents are offering for mayor, at least two new members of council are to be named. The aldermen whose terms expire at the end of the present year are: First ward, J. H. Hopkins; second ward, M. H. McKinnon; third ward, C. T. Calnan; fourth ward, J. H. Leo.

The slogan for progressive southern farmers must be, "More and Better Livestock." But good livestock cannot be raised on the part of the farmers of how to feed. We can raise the feeds, but many farmers have yet to learn how to feed for best results. Here's a great opportunity for the young farmer who is willing to think and investigate.—The Progressive Farmer.

MISS NAN STEPHENS IS A REAL MOTOR ENTHUSIAST: SHE HAS COVERED 21,000 MILES IN LAST TWO YEARS

MISS NAN STEPHENS, At the wheel of her Stearns Silent Knight.

Miss Nan Stephens is a real motor enthusiast. Most of her time, except that devoted to the care of her flower garden, is spent outdoors in the machine. She is driving now a big fifty-horsepower Stearns Silent Knight.

This is the third car she has had, since she began driving two years ago, and in all she has covered over 21,000 miles. This mileage does not include long trips either, but is an indication of how constant is her use of the machine.

"I have become so accustomed to the rush of the wind in my face," says Miss Stephens, "that I find it difficult to sleep at night when I have to leave the open air and go indoors."

Miss Stephens is the daughter of J. M. Stephens, of West End.

J. M. MILLER, CENTENARIAN, DIES AT SON'S HOME IN MACON

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Johnathan M. Miller, thought to have been the oldest white man in the state of Georgia, died here this morning at 9 o'clock at the home of his son, Judge L. L. Miller, at the advanced age of 102 years.

A few weeks ago Mr. Miller came to Macon from Augusta, President Scott, of the Georgia railroad, tendering him the use of his private car so that he might have every possible comfort during the trip.

For several years he had been in poor health and when he realized that he only had a short time to live, he expressed the wish that he might spend his remaining days in the home of his son in Macon.

Mr. Miller had the distinction of owning two of the largest plantations in Georgia and South Carolina, one being located near Augusta and the other just across the line in South Carolina. During the civil war Mr. Miller was too old to go to the front, but he took a prominent part in the struggle, devoting the entire output of his two big plantations to feeding the confederate soldiers.

He was born at Beach Island, S. C., December 9, 1810. The following sons and daughters survive: Judge A. L. Miller and Dr. G. T. Miller, of Macon; Mrs. J. L. Robertshaw, of Savannah; Mrs. J. Pope Brown, of Hawkinsville; and Norman P. Miller, of Hawkinsville. In addition there are scores of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The body will be taken to Augusta early Monday morning for interment and will be accompanied by a number of the relatives.

was at Raleigh. He has been Washington correspondent for several southern newspapers prior to joining forces with the Wilson publicity movement.

Governor Wilson himself left his summer home today for a needed rest of twenty-four hours. Before his departure he told the secret of what he called "his retreat" to the newspaper men so that they might reach him in case of emergency, but obtained their promise that they would not disturb him unless the emergency were great indeed. No one save the reporters, his immediate family and one or two intimate friends knew where he had gone.

WHAT EVER WILSON SAYS TO GO WITH NATIONAL COMMITTEE.
Chicago, July 14.—Every member of the democratic national committee is here tonight prepared to attend the first meeting of the new body tomorrow.

Robt. S. Hudspeeth has a letter from Governor Woodrow Wilson, making important suggestions in regard to the organization of the committee and the management of the presidential campaign, which he will read, and the opinion prevails that the advice will be adopted by the members without much discussion.

The outlook apparently forecasts perfect harmony. The democratic leaders today expressed themselves as being willing to take their orders from Governor Wilson.

There are 24 new members of the committee and they spent the day getting acquainted with the old members and discussing prospects. "Wilson is a great politician and he will win in November without any trouble," said Thomas Taggart, of Indiana. "Whatever he says will go with this committee."

Wm. F. McCombs, the New York lawyer, who managed Governor Wilson's pre-convention campaign, will, it is said, be chosen chairman of the new national committee. He is said to be the choice of Governor Wilson and no opposition to his selection is expected. The secretaryship, it is said, may go to Jos. E. Davies, of Wisconsin, an ardent supporter of Wilson.

STORM RAGED ON MOBILE BAY: MANY LIVES WERE ENDANGERED
Mobile, Ala., July 14.—Over a thousand persons in four pleasure boats and many small craft were caught in a severe rain, wind and thunder storm on Mobile bay this afternoon.

Six persons in a small launch were picked up by the steamer James E. Carney just in time to avert a sinking of the tiny craft, according to persons aboard. The launch, trailing at the stern of the steamer, was lost in the storm.

Sunday, according to unofficial thermometers, was the hottest day of the summer in Mobile, and all pleasure craft were loaded for their excursion to eastern resorts. The day was hot and the crowd could take refuge only in an incomplete steel shed now being erected by the city.

One lone taxicab braved the elements and met the boats. A misunderstanding of signals caused the blocking for ten minutes of twenty street cars full of baseball fans returning from the Mobile-Atlanta game here today, and drenched the crowd.

DENVER STRUCK BY CLOUDBURST: PROPERTY LOSS TOTALS $1,000,000
Denver, Colo., July 14.—More than a million dollars damage and one life lost were the result of a cloudburst here tonight. Cherry creek, which extends along the northwest, west and south boundaries of Denver overflowed and approximately four square miles is under water.

The principal streets are under from one to two feet of water. The union depot is under almost three feet of water and more than two hundred persons who were in the station when the water rose were taken out on trucks.

Water rose in the railroad yards north of the depot to a depth of several feet, extinguishing the fires in several locomotives. Not a train has been sent out of Denver since the cloudburst and no trains have pulled into the yards.

GREAT LOSS AT WASHINGTON CAUSED BY A THUNDERSTORM
Washington, July 14.—The most severe thunderstorm in years swept down upon this city tonight and with the terrific wind, which accompanied it, left a trail of devastation throughout the District of Columbia. While the downpour was at its height two and one-half inches of rain fell in three-quarters of an hour. In the submerged basements of the bureau of engraving and printing and the government printing office valuable paper stock was rendered worthless to an extent of $20,000.

ROOSEVELT PREPARES FOR A CAMPAIGN TRIP

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 14.—Colonel Roosevelt decided today to make the campaign trip to Michigan, Kansas and Iowa, which he has had under consideration for several days. He said he would start westward tomorrow.

He will start westward tomorrow, Harry F. Cochems, of Wisconsin, and Professor Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, visited Colonel Roosevelt today. Professor Van Hise came from Seagirt, N. J., where yesterday he talked with Woodrow Wilson.

"Professor Van Hise is very much interested in the economic side of the campaign," said Colonel Roosevelt, "and I discussed it with him."

Mr. Cochems, formerly a lieutenant of Senator La Follette, was one of the signers of the call for the national progressive convention.

MANY TO JOIN WEAVERS IN A SYMPATHY STRIKE

New Bedford, Mass., July 14.—Members of the loom fixer's union and the Industrial Workers of the World which includes representatives of many crafts went today to strike tomorrow in sympathy with those weavers who fall to report for work in the cloth mills.

The twisters have also voted to join the strike and the carders and spinners are but awaiting the sanction of their national body before taking a final vote on the question.

Leaders tonight found it difficult to estimate how many operatives will work tomorrow. About 20,000 operatives are employed in all of the mills of the city, of which 2,000 are weavers.

There is an electric light for every inhabitant of the Manhattan section of New York city.

RATES ADVANCE IN MONEY MARKET

Stock Market Was Ruled by Consideration of the Financial Position.

New York, July 14.—The stock market last week was ruled by consideration of the money market position and by various statistics published from time to time, modified by the knowledge of later developments regarding the subject of the statistics. The weekly bank statement of the preceding Saturday disclosed a deficit in surplus reserves according to the actual figures of $1,000,000 necessitating a readjustment of the money market.

The northward march of crop harvesters in this country gives notice of coming demand on money market. Some unsettled conditions in the metal markets was noted. Unsteadiness of copper metal in London aroused distrust of the showing of a decrease in stocks of refined copper made by the report of the copper producers association on June 1.

More attention was paid to the assertions of steel trade authorities of a marked shrinkage in new orders since higher prices were in effect than to the unexpected increase in the unfilled orders of the steel corporation reported July 1. Labor activity in the steel mills, urgent calls for prompt deliveries, increase in June building operations and the augmenting tide of immigration were passed over for anxious surmise over the tenor of the report of the congressional committee of investigation of steel corporation. The government figures on wheat condition and on corn conditions were disappointing to previous estimates. The great promise for oats and hay and the excellent growing weather for corn during the week gave warrant for hopefulness, but were little heeded.

CUBA IS NOW FREED OF PLAGUE SUSPICION

Washington, July 14.—Cuba is now freed of plague suspicion. Past Assistant Surgeon General Eustace C. Taylor, who has been in Havana since he "proved negative." The patient is still confined and under treatment, but it is certain that he is not suffering from the plague.

Upon receiving this report Surgeon General Blue, of the public health and marine hospital service, instructed Dr. Eustace to permit passengers for New York to embark directly from Havana without detention. The time of the sea voyage will be allowed, and the passengers will be detained in quarantine at New York long enough to make up the required seven days.

Three new plague cases were reported from Porto Rico today by Past Assistant Surgeon General Eustace C. Taylor, who has been in Havana since he "proved negative." The patient is still confined and under treatment, but it is certain that he is not suffering from the plague.

SEABOARD TRAIN NO. 50 WRECKED NEAR TREDEGAR

A wreck on the Seaboard yesterday morning near Tredegar, Ala., shortly after 10 o'clock, resulted in the death of a man and injured several people. The mail car was derailed and overturned, and the mail clerk, King, was fatally injured. The wreck was closer to Birmingham than to Atlanta, these hurt were rushed there for treatment. Ambulances, gotten ready at the union station here, were not needed.

No. 50 is due in Atlanta at 12:10 o'clock. The cause of the derailment is not known.

TWO MEN ANGERED BY GOV. BLEASE

Allege They Were Ordered From Mansion—Message for Tom Felder.

Columbia, S. C., July 14.—(Special.) J. N. King, a contractor, and O. M. Watson, both of Greenville, S. C., have given out a signed statement in which they say they went to the executive mansion, after being told by telephone to go there to see Governor Blease, and were insulted by the governor. It is alleged Watson was ordered out of the house by Blease. They had asked for a respite of thirty days for State Morris, a negro, sentenced to the electric chair, and Blease told them the sleuths were "after him with the dictagraph," and he wouldn't talk. King says, in the statement: "My feelings have been very much hurt by Blease, and if Tom Felder don't want to come across the Savannah river, then I will accommodate Blease."

WHEN THE MOON CHANGES WEATHER MAY BE FAIR

Unless all signs fail in "wet" weather, Atlanta will have a let-up in the rainy spell next Saturday, when it rains off. There is no charge for the information—put your money back in your pocket!

The news was brought from Gainesville, Saturday night. The Newman Club, one of the unique organizations of the state, had given their annual barbecue to a large company of distinguished men without interruption from the weather, and this had been a source of conversation.

"Don't you think it's done for, though," said one of the oldest inhabitants present. "It's going to keep on raining right straight through till next Saturday, when it will stop. Watch it if it don't."

"What's going to happen Saturday?" asked Judge William T. Newman, who brought the story to Atlanta.

"The moon changes in the evening, but it's fair," was the answer, and resort to the almanac verified his statement. If the prediction is verified Atlanta will doubtless take up a collection to pay the office rent of the prophet who puts the blue back in a empyrean.

MOB WANTED HIS LIFE FOR ATTACKING BABY

Louisville, Ky., July 14.—Presence of police saved Alfred Powell from serious injury if not death at the hands of a mob here today at noon after, it is charged, he had attempted criminal assault upon a 3-year-old girl. The scene was an alley near the home of Policeman Thomas McGoff, who rushed out of his home when he heard the cries of the little girl. After striking Powell several blows he rescued the child.

Soon a crowd gathered and a rush was made for the prisoner when the mother of the victim took her baby in her arms and said she would like to see Powell burned at the stake. Other officers had arrived and their efforts saved Powell, who soon after was locked up. The prisoner refused to talk. He is 28 years old. The victim is Margaret Crutchfield. Powell was friendly to the Crutchfields and often visited their home.

SONG IS BLESSING
SAYS DR. ROBINS

"Lightens the Burdens Resting Upon the Shoulders of Men and Women."

"If we are afflicted in any way, pray:—is a man's only recourse in time of trouble, if you feel good, sing," such is the philosophy of religion and life as offered by St. James in the Bible, and as expounded with vigor at Trinity church last night by Dr. J. B. Robins.

His discourse was in keeping with a series which he has been preaching on the fundamental principles of practical religion, and was one of the best that he has given.

Bringing out the different phases of life, the sad and the merry, Dr. Robins offered prayer and singing as the two things which will always be of benefit to both the individual and the world-at-large.

The value of spontaneous song to the world may not be estimated in words, said Dr. Robins. It is a blessing and a benefit, and the habit of expressing inward joy in song should be cultivated by those who have the gift of singing, he said. A song, he continued, has always found a place in all the occurrences of life, and even when death hovers near a song often waits a soul to life immortal.

But particularly, said Dr. Robins, should the gift of song be used to make lighter the burdens that rest upon the shoulders of men and women. "One never knows," said the minister, "when spontaneous song may help or inspire others to face more cheerfully the trials of a life which is often none to merry. The memory of a mother's lullaby, or a little melody sung by her when chiding courage finds strength in the prospect of future happiness, the happy little lullaby of youth, all have their place and value in this world, and my message to you is to 'sing more!'"

B. C. DUFFY DENIES
HE SURRENDERED SON

B. C. Duffy, of 253 East Fair street, father of the young boy recently arrested on suspicion of being implicated with the gang of White Caps, denies that he surrendered his son to the police and that he told Chief of Detectives Lanford that his son was unruly and could not be made to behave. "I never saw Lanford to know him in my life," said the father. "The detectives came to my house Friday for my boy. He was not there and they left when I told them I would send the boy to them. I did so, telling him to go see what they wanted, and he asked me to go with him. I agreed, but I did not see the chief and I did not say he was unruly. He is not unruly. He is a good boy. He has been in one position three years, and I am going to sit to the bottom the matter of his arrest."

LABEL ON SHOE SECURES INSURANCE FOR WIDOW

Athens, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The firm name of an Athens shoe store on the tiny label sewed on the lining of a shoe belonging to her husband has been the means of netting the widow of J. N. Booth, formerly of this city, and later of Lexington, in the adjacent county of Oglethorpe, several thousand dollars in insurance on the life of her husband.

Mr. Booth left Athens last year to attend the reunion at Little Rock. He disappeared. Later, after detectives and officers had searched for a year or more, a body was found in the Arkansas woods near the railroad where he had got off the train to stretch his legs while waiting for a passing train. The only clue to the identity of the man then discovered was the label inside the shoe.

THREE BOYS DROWNED
WHILE ON FISHING TRIP

Washington, N. C., July 14.—Theodore and Elbert Tucker, sons of a Pitt county farmer, and Robert Hardy, of Greenville, N. C., a cousin, were drowned in the Tar river, near Grimesland, yesterday afternoon. They were on a fishing trip and went in bathing. They were missed at supper and their bodies were found after an all-night dragging of the river.

MARKET IS CLOSED
FOR LIVE BOLL WEEVILS

Natchez, Miss., July 14.—The market for live boll weevils closed here yesterday with a total stock of 475,000 bugs bought since June 25 at 5 cents per hundred. The insects were caught in Adams county, the oil mills, local wholesale merchants and bankers financing the plan. It was reported that most of the bugs were not genuine.

WILLIAM LORIMER
GOING TO WORK

He Takes View That He May Ask the Senate to Re-open His Case.

Washington, July 14.—"William Lorimer is going back to Chicago and back to work."

That was the brief announcement made today in behalf of the man whom the senate yesterday stripped of his seat and title as junior senator from the sovereign state of Illinois.

Whether he will re-enter politics and seek a vindication at the hands of the Illinois electorate Mr. Lorimer has not decided; that, his friends say, is at least two years away.

Mr. Lorimer was out automobiling today, far from being the careworn and crushed man he might be imagined. Since the fight for his seat became most active, Mr. Lorimer has been living at a downtown hotel, having given up his quarters in the Young Men's Christian association. He will remain there until probably the end of the week, when he will leave for Chicago. Any political move he may make probably will be determined only after conference with Elbridge Haney, the Chicago lawyer, who has been his defender throughout the attacks upon him.

Lorimer takes the view that he may ask to have his case reopened on the ground of newly discovered evidence at any time he wishes. He feels that the senate in reopening his case would have once declared his title valid established a precedent it cannot ignore. Since he walked out of the senate chamber yesterday he has barely mentioned his case.

It is said that Lorimer's longest comment on the outcome of his fight was made when his colleague, the venerable Shelby M. Cullom, turned and voted for his unseating. Some mentioned Cullom's vote, and Lorimer remarked: "I was disappointed."

CHANGEABLE WEATHER
PREDICTED FOR WEEK

Washington, July 14.—Unstable pressures over the northern hemisphere indicate that the weather this week will be more changeable than last week over the central and northern states, where it will be cool and showery at the outset. "The week," said the bulletin issued by the weather bureau, "will be open, cool and showery over the Rocky mountain region and the northwest, followed by moderately warm and generally fair weather by the middle of the week, and by a return to cooler, showery weather at the close. Over the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and the upper Lake region lower temperatures and showers will be experienced by Tuesday, continuing for a day or two, and followed by moderately warm and generally fair weather toward the end of the week."

Over the Ohio valley, the lower Lake region and the northeastern districts warm and generally fair weather will continue during the first half of the week, followed by somewhat lower temperatures and local showers during the second half.

In the Gulf states and the southwest warm and generally fair weather will continue, while in the south Atlantic states local thunder-showers during the first half of the week will be followed by generally fair weather toward the close.

To Revive Y. M. C. A. Charter. Athens, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Application has been made in the Clarke superior court to revive the charter of the local Young Men's Christian association, granted just twenty-five years ago. Recently the local association in ten days raised more than $100,000 for building and the corporation is again desirable.

DR. WIGGINS PLEADS
FOR "A CLEAN CITY"

The fight which is being made to pass the Tappin bill in the Georgia legislature, and the social reformation work which has been undertaken in Atlanta by the leaders of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, were principal features of the sermon delivered yesterday morning at the First Methodist church by Rev. S. P. Wiggins.

"A Clean City" was the topic chosen by Dr. Wiggins, and during the course of his remarks in referring to the work being done by the leaders of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, he said that if it was good policy to have proper sanitation for the cities and towns of the state that it was equally proper to secure physical purity. He said that hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent annually in Georgia for healthful sanitation, and yet the moral conditions which were infinitely worse, were allowed to continue, debauching the young men and women of the state.

In speaking of the passage of the Tappin bill he declared that the revenue secured from it was the dearest financial aid that the state could secure. He said that criminal court records show that more than three-fourths of the crimes committed in Georgia were directly traceable to whiskey and beer, and that if these were banished from the state that the courts would more than make up the amount lost through revenue. In addition, he declared, hundreds of lives were lost annually in Georgia because of intemperance which could not be valued by mere dollars and cents.

R. D. STINSON SPEAKS
IN DR. LEE'S CHURCH

St. Louis, July 14.—(Special.)—Richard D. Stinson, head of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute, made an appeal in St. John's M. E. church, south, Washington and Kings highway, at which Dr. J. W. Lee is pastor, at the morning service today.

The negro leader spoke of the mission of the school, saving industrial education to co-operate with the best people of Atlanta and the south, in permanently putting a school on foot that was destined to prove a most lasting good to the masses of the negro race. A liberal contribution was taken. It is said that Stinson is the first member of his race to be permitted to ask the wealthy congregation for a contribution to aid negro education.

A large number of booklets with pictures and addresses were placed in the seats of the church. An educational rally for the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute was held in the largest and finest negro church in the city, Rev. Samson Brooks, pastor, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. W. M. Sloan, vice president of the Hamilton Brown shoe company, presided.

The principal speeches were made by Dr. James W. Lee, S. J. Nicols, of the Second Presbyterian church; Principal Richard D. Stinson, Professor Frank L. Williams and Rev. George E. Stevens, of the Central Baptist church. Two thousand people heard the speakers. The meeting is said to have been one of the most effective ever held among the colored people of this section.

BANNER STARTS FUND
FOR WILSON CAMPAIGN

Athens, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The Athens Daily Banner, which was a very warm and consistent advocate of Underwood for the nomination, has started a fund in Athens to aid in the election of Woodrow Wilson, beginning the list with $25. The paper proposes to raise $500 for legitimate expenses for the democratic campaign of Governor Wilson. Several former Underwood men have added their contributions to the list. So far there has not been a donation from a supporter of Governor Wilson, though the county lacked but three votes of going for the New Jersey governor in the presidential preference primary.

Dividend by McIntosh Mills.

Newman, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of McIntosh Cotton mills on Thursday a dividend of 3 per cent was declared—the first paid since the mills began operations.

CONGRESS WORKS
FOR ADJOURNMENT

Indications Are That Session Will End Earlier Than Anticipated.

Washington, July 14.—The end of the Lorimer case and the disposition of the senate to postpone until autumn the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archibald, of the commerce court, forecast an earlier adjournment of congress than has heretofore been indicated.

The Panama canal bill, despite Great Britain's request for delay, has been made the unfinished business of the senate. It must go to conference with the house, however, and the British government eventually will have an opportunity to fully state its objections to the provisions of the bill before the measure is finally acted upon. The British contention that the provision, which practically gives free tolls to certain American ships, is in contravention of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is not without support in both houses of congress.

The democratic tariff bills and the supply bills are not expected to take much of the senate's time. The Beall bill to prohibit dealings in cotton futures and the bill to create a department of labor with a secretary in the president's cabinet will come up in the house this week and both seem assured of passage. The Lever bill, much the same as the Beall bill, but drawn against trading in futures in wheat and other grains, may also come up. Western representatives have prepared a sharp opposition to it. They say it would destroy the Chicago board of trade and other grain exchanges, which they claim are necessary as clearing houses by which crops are moved.

The Stanley committee, which investigated the alleged sales of trust property to the government, will report tomorrow to discuss the report drawn by Chairman Stanley. At least two and probably three reports from the committee are expected.

The house democrats will go to Seagriff, N. J., Saturday to visit Governor Wilson. The house probably will adjourn from Friday to Monday to permit the pilgrimage.

Gymnastics for Mill Hands.

LaGrange, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Pursuing a policy of greater development at the mission house, Rev. Henry Phillips, in charge of the work there, has secured the services of Paul G. Bell, a Sewanee graduate, for physical culture and gymnastic work among a mill employees who are taking advantage of the mission work. In addition to Dr. Brewster there are now five nurses and Mr. Bell at the mission house, engaged in the philanthropic work of teaching and ministering to the cotton mill employees.

Milledgeville Auto Rules.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The city council of Milledgeville has recently passed a new law governing the use of automobiles in the city. The passing of vehicles and also to the turning around of cars in the streets, was being permitted only at street corners. Many owners of cars have been arraigned and fined for violating the new law. As an amusing and interesting occurrence this week when the mayor and the entire council board appeared before the recorder, charged with this offense themselves and were fined, with the exception of one member of the council, who does not own an automobile.

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

A bill of unusual quality will be the attraction at the Forsyth for this week. Master Gabriel and company, in "Little Kiek," will be the star of the bill, and Atlanta theatergoers are going to see the famous little vest pocket comedian in his masterpiece, "With Al Lamar and Vida Perrin he has won praise in Boston and New York, and comes to Atlanta while the act is at the height of its popularity. Another feature that will contribute a great deal to the strength of the bill will be the offering of Tempest and Sunshine, two decidedly pretty girls, who produce the greatest act of its sort in all vaudeville. The French and Italian opera company will give a splendid treat in a musical way, and the comedy of Bixley and Lerner will be another card of magnetism. Jolly and Wild, a duo of funmakers, will be on the bill, and Carson and Farnum, clever acrobats, and Stacey Circus will complete a program that is all worth while.

At the Bijou.

A decided novelty in the vaudeville line is promised as the headline for this week's bill at the Bijou. It is the Gordon brothers, with their champion boxing Kangaroo, Bob. This is said to be one of the most laughable and interesting acts in vaudeville. As an additional feature act the management has secured the Bell boy trio, a singing act which ranks well among the best trios on the vaudeville stage today. There will be amply and Bell, a novelty singing and talking act, and George Dixon, comedy musical clown. The show, as a whole, represents probably the most expensive vaudeville talent that has been booked at the theater in many weeks, and indications point to a performance replete with novelty, comedy and up-to-date features that should bring banner crowds to the Bijou during the week.

PASS THE TIPPINS BILL,
URGES COLORED PASTOR

Rev. H. H. Proctor, in his prelude at the First Congregational church, colored, last night favored the passage of the Tappin bill, abolishing the sale of near beer in Georgia.

SAYES IS ASSASSINATED;
VICTIM OF AN OLD FEUD

Marksville, La., July 14.—W. H. Sayes, aged 48, police juror of Avoyelles parish and wealthy planter, was killed in ambush by an unknown person early today while returning from a lodge meeting at Center Point. The assassination is believed to be the continuation of a feud between the Sayes and Truman Clark families which has resulted in the violent deaths of four men within the past few years. Sayes leaves a wife and several children.

BRUNSWICK IS PLACED ON NATIONAL HIGHWAY

Brunswick, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—By the extension of the Georgia Coast and Piedmont from Darien to this city, work on which was started July 1, Brunswick will be placed on the national highway from New York to Jacksonville. The problem of crossing the Altamaha river, which has long confronted the officials of this county, has been overcome by the decision recently reached by the officials of the new road to provide for the operation of a motor car service over the bridges and trestles of the Altamaha for automobiles and all other classes of vehicles. Besides it gives the people of Brunswick, Darien, Savannah and intervening points what they have long desired, some practical quick means of crossing the river.

Steamer Sinks; No Lives Lost.

Port Huron, Mich., July 14.—The freight steamer, G. J. Grammer, owned by Frank Selver, Cleveland, was sunk in a collision with the freighter, Northern Queen, just north of Port Huron today. The boat sank in 26 feet of water. The crew was taken off in small boats. The Grammer was a wooden boat, 418 feet long, built in 1902. The North Wind is also a wooden boat.

Some think that the legislature has a queer way of expressing its gratitude for its cool vacation in Atlanta.

The Colonel will pitch his campaign on the high cost of living, and one must admit that's a pretty high plane.

After a two-years' war with the Camorristi, Italy should have little difficulty in exterminating the Turks.

A pocketful of new half-cent pieces will give the consumer the rich, reckless feeling of a prodigal millionaire.

There were several Oyster Bay date-lines over the news of last week, and no doubt the Colonel is profoundly grateful.

Some women think that the ideal husband is the man who will keep to the kitchen while his wife hikes to the polls.

They say that Woodrow Wilson has never seen a national convention, so, after all, he doesn't know what trouble is.

In the absence of the summer resort price and a railroad ticket, last year's bathing suit looks like a shriveled dream.

Woodrow Wilson is also a baritone singer, but he'll give the country something more substantial than a song and dance.

When strangely things transpire in a summer's flash, just tell 'em: "It's a presidential year!" When the world seems rolling reckless, when the bills come—and you're checkless, just tell 'em: "It's a presidential year!"

RECLAIM GEORGIA'S BURIED ACRES.

About 2,700,000 acres of land in Georgia are lost to agriculture because they are either swamp land or under water at intervals. Tomorrow afternoon the appropriations committee of the house of representatives is to consider a project which involves their reclamation.

The bill, which was introduced by Randolph Anderson, of Chatham county, provides that the state shall appropriate $5,000 a year for five years for preliminary surveys of these inundated areas. If the appropriation is passed, it is with the understanding that the federal government co-operates by setting aside a similar amount for a similar period to be devoted to the same purpose.

To the layman, the task of preliminary survey may appear in the nature of a work of supererogation. But it is absolutely indispensable to the undertaking of actual reclamation.

To reclaim these lands, it is imperative to know just how, where and at what length and height and depth they lie. It is needful to know in what direction drainage channels may be cut to produce the quickest results at the lowest price. When the preliminary surveys are completed and the charts made, all that is necessary is to get the dredges, the crews and, of course, the necessary capital, to do the work. The trail will have been blazed.

The state geological department is in receipt of letters from several domestic and foreign capitalists seeking information along this line, with the idea of investment. At present, it is absolutely powerless to supply the data essential for such projects.

South Georgia, and those portions of north Georgia with inundated areas, are a unit in favor of the reclamation plan. At the latest session of the Georgia Drainage Congress, at Waycross, Walter McElreath, of Atlanta, chairman of the house committee, made an address strongly urging the profit and wisdom of the state meeting the federal government half-way in the scheme.

Not only will the taxable values and the aggregate wealth of the state be greatly enhanced by this improvement, but the sanitary conditions of the surrounding territory will improve radically. Swamps and under-water plots are notorious breeders of disease. For this, not to consider the material side, the appropriations committee should do its utmost for the matter in hand.

PENALIZING RURAL STUDENTS.

Reports compiled by and read at the fiftieth annual convention of the National Education association, in Chicago, are enough to bring alarm to every thoughtful man in this country, especially those fathers and mothers and the citizens in general who feel even a scintilla of weight of responsibility for the welfare of the rising generation. It was shown that of the 20,000,000 public school pupils in the United States, 12,000,000 were being educated in rural schools. It was further stated that only one-third of the country scholars were making a satisfactory showing. The estimate is probably a liberal one. Thomas H. Harris, state superintendent of schools in Louisiana, struck a suggestive note when he declared the time had come to force the federal government, in this crisis, to active financial intervention.

If the average Georgian did not have evidence at first hand of the measurable truth of the statement made at Chicago, he might feel more optimistic. It is true that the state's school system, first under Jere M. Pound and then under M. L. Brittain, has made wonderful strides. But these two men, and their predecessors, have been forced to make bricks without straw; as Kipling says, to work with "broken or worn-out tools." The state's miserable fiscal policy has resulted in teachers being paid extremely low salaries, and even for these they have to wait an unconscionable time, in the meantime discounting what comes to them to make both ends meet.

Similar conditions prevail in other states, in the nation generally, where rural schools are concerned. It is only within the past decade that the cities, as a rule, have begun to go about the tremendously serious task of educating the coming generation in a manner approximating intelligence. The states, as regards the country schools, have been almost criminally negligent. Many of them, and Georgia is not exempt, have tolerated the wrong-headed policy of permitting farmers to take their children out of school at the most important part of the session and put them in the fields.

A radical change must come for the better in our attitude toward the rural scholar, and it must come quickly. We are dealing with the rulers of tomorrow, when we consider the child and his educational problems. And if we expect clear thinking and high ideals and good equipment to issue from the country, we must put into the country schools the ingredients to produce these results.

THE TOLL OF THE ELEMENTS.

It is likely that 1912, or at least its first half, will go down to Georgia history as a year that marked the climax of tangible property injury inflicted by the elements. In a review of the situation a few days ago, The Constitution briefly summarized the damage accruing from the abnormally continuous rains. Since then, reports from all sources have borne out the summary.

State Entomologist Worsham, for example, who has just returned from a trip through south Georgia, declares that "glooms" prevail among the farmers of that section because of the devastation visited on crops by the incessant precipitation. This means, of course, that cotton, and probably the other crops, will bring a higher price. In that fact there is compensation, but the farmer enamored of the idea of getting out a bumper yield is not apt at present to hug that soothing unctious to his bosom.

From Cherokee county, in an entirely different section of the state, comes the report that ten bridges have been washed away because of the phenomenal rains. The replacing or repairing of these bridges is, of course, going to cost money. It is a logical assumption that the same conditions obtain, proportionately, in other counties in the state, and nearly all of them have been victims of the weather god.

The repairing of roads in the country and of streets in the cities must net a large total. Delay in construction of new roads, and the tax taken of live stock and vehicles by heavy roads is another factor that must be figured in the equation.

The Constitution has already referred to the costly delay in building construction due to unfavorable conditions. This situation is general and must foot up a formidable aggregate.

The outlook is really not as melancholy as it appears on the surface. The increased prices for crops are a compensatory feature. And there is every probability, according to the law of averages, that the remaining months will more nearly approximate the normal and the fall season bring usual, if not unprecedented, prosperity. It is interesting, in the meantime, to observe just how helpless every man-jack of us is when nature takes on a freakish or a destructive mood.

"Just From Georgia"

The Iceberg Ship.

Away for a freezing trip to the Pole
 On an iceberg broad and high;
 Afar, where the Arctic billows roll
 'Neath an icicle-bordered sky!
 Farewell to summer and burning heat,
 And welcome the Arctic snow and sleet!

We shout as the iceberg wall appears
 High in the sun's dim glance;
 We'll soon shake hands with the Polar bears.

And ho! for a freezing dance!
 Farewell to summer! Away we go
 On the icy decks of a ship of snow!

Now, Keep Cool!

We have these chilly items from a man who recently made a successful getaway from the Ananias club:
 "A light snow fell yesterday, and shortly afterwards we were eating frozen melons 'neath the friendly shade of the family tree.

The rain of Tuesday turned to hail,
 and we gathered about ten bushels, which will make us independent of the ice trust for at least two weeks.

"The weather is delightfully cool,
 for we have located acres of thin ice upon which politicians do their skating."

The Melon in the Rain.

De clouds, dey tell de big sun
 Dey'll hide dat face er his.
 De rain dew down de melons,
 But I wadin' how dey is!

Dey dey can't hide dem melons fine
 'Pum a honky, smacking' mouth lak mine!

No matter how de flood come,
 Dem melons boun' ter float;
 I run down ter de river
 An' pile 'em in de boat.

De melon was in de way I gwine,
 Kaze dey fits dis smacking' mouth er

Briefs From Billville.

Perhaps the reason the legislature is down on the night-bear is because it isn't big enough to hit the spot.

Watching the other fellows run for office is so much fun that we have declined all offers to enter the race, having made a safe bet that the fastest

The heavy rains providentially floated our house beyond the county line, so we won't have any taxes to pay in this balliwick.

Just a Plain One.

J. R. Thornton writes this rhyme of a Georgia Cracker of a new type:

"Just a plain old Georgia Cracker
 Who don't smoke nor chew tobacco;
 Never cuss, an' don't drink liquor;
 Served his time as cotton picker.

Never spent much time in school;
 Kept too busy plowin' a mule;
 Pickin' cotton in the fall
 Storekeeper got it all!

Had no time to study readin';
 Meat an' bread when 'was needin';
 Never time to go a-fishin';
 All time workin' an' a-wishin'."

Dreamland's Love.

Shall I dream on, and always,
 As from manhood's earliest hour,
 Of a shadow face in the blue above,
 Half hidden by rose-covered bowers,
 A face yet clear on memory's plate—
 The face of my own true love?

Oh, my soul would search through astral halls,
 Where glory of heaven gleams,
 For she dwells not on earth, nor does she come.

From that land of mystical streams
 Where is many a sparkling fountain of gold—
 The fountain of Love's bright dreams.

In visions I see her beyond the blue,
 A seraph in beauty, afar;
 Her eyes, as gloriously bright to see
 As heaven's most radiant star,
 Are guiding me through this weary world.

Where I dream, unloved and alone,
 But she comes to me—my shadowy bride,
 And I thrill at her touch and tone.

In the soul's archives where sorrow
 nor time,
 The image can ever deface,
 The angels imprint her photograph:
 No other can take its place.

And some sweet day, in the far away,
 My bride from dreamland's sea,
 Shall be drawn to her own and leap the gulf.

Which divides her now from me.

Dividends of Newnan Banks.

Newnan, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—
 The Newnan banks held their semi-annual meeting last week, and all made excellent showings. Half-yearly dividends were paid as follows: First National, 4 per cent; Newnan Banking company, 4 per cent; Coweta National bank, 5 per cent; Newnan National bank, 5 per cent.

All made substantial additions to surplus and undivided profits.

Fertilizer Legislation.

Editor Constitution: Have you ever noticed that the minute our legislature convenes, someone immediately introduces a bill, the substance of which is to do something against the fertilizer manufacturers?

Bills and counterbills have from year to year been enacted against this honest class of manufacturers, until today it would require the services of a "Philadelphia lawyer" to advise the fertilizer manufacturers of Georgia what they can and what they cannot do.

There is one thing the fertilizer manufacturers know, and there is no doubt in his mind in regard to it, that is, he knows his goods must contain more plant food than he guarantees.
 This is his one idea, for he knows it must be so to put him on the safe side. If he makes a 1-2-2 goods, he must be sure that it analyzes not less than 1-2-2 goods.

Do you know of a merchant anywhere in this country who would sell customer asks for a yard of cloth, gives this customer a yard and a quarter? And the customer or farmer will produce allowing any such margin?

If anyone desires to verify my statement in regard to the fertilizer manufacturers giving the farmer more than he (the farmer) pays for, I refer you to the fertilizer bulletin issued by the department of agriculture, and ask you to read down the column of "guaranteed commercial values" and compare the figures with the column next to it showing the "actual commercial value by analysis." If any one will find that the fertilizer manufacturer gives each year to the farmer thousands of thousands of dollars, for which he receives absolutely nothing.

There is a bill now pending in the legislature, "To prohibit the use of any artificial fillers in fertilizers."
 I am not sure that this bill is not an "artificial" filler. If not, nature will have to change her way of doing things, and give us wool and mince matter like that and all wool and a yard wide.

High grade Florida phosphate rock containing about 16 per cent sand.
 This bill says "there must be no sand put in fertilizers." Certainly, the acid phosphate made from this rock will contain all the sand contained in the rock.

This bill says that the farmer cannot buy in the open market any more 8-8-2, 10-2-2, 9-2-3, etc., goods, the kind and grade they have been using for certain crops and on special soils all their lives. The farmer must buy the highest grade goods that can be made, and put himself up a "little fertilizer" fact at home and manipulate his goods after buying them from the fertilizer manufacturer, at extra expense and labor required, and the fact that in his crude way, it would be impossible for him to uniformly mix the fertilizer with his soil.

I do not believe that the majority of farmers would need such a bill passed. If farmers had been so anxious to "cut out" the filler business, they would have bought the highest grade of fertilizers made, and that could be made with the materials at the manufacturers' disposal.

At the records, even after there had been three times as much 10-2-2 goods, bought by farmers than any other grade. They know that a 10-2-2 goods contains much less filler than a 10-2-2 goods, and it does seem that these farmers are not so stupid as they are credited with being. If they desired this radical change, they would have demanded it by buying the highest grade fertilizers on the market.

I believe that there has come when our legislative bodies would do the country vastly more good if they would confine their legislation to legislation against crooks and dishonest manufacturers, and do all they can to aid and encourage the honest ones.

Respectfully,

A. M. LLOYD,
 Analytical Chemist.

The Fried Chicken Boom.

Editor Constitution: An envious citizen of Ducktown, Tenn., is said to have exclaimed, while passing through a most violent brainstorm, in the queen city of the Georgia mountains, Gainesville, "There's more fried chicken in Ducktown in a week."

This he said in explosion against the immovable and impenetrable complacency of a Gainesvillian, even after the bold
 Tennesseean had come to the north Georgia metropolis of square meals and feather beds to talk about the yellow-legged cases belli.

Now, undoubtedly a most important expansion in the chicken business has taken place in Gainesville, Ga., during the last three or four months, but, in a city where it is to be had everywhere good to eat, these manifestations cause no excitement and evoke little comment.

Everybody has lived well since the live birds were so plentiful. In a hundred years, yes, ever since the Chattahoochee began to chatter over the good old Shaw Ford, "out of the hills of Habersham, down the valleys of Hall," with the very natural result that an increase in the facilities for growing and raising chickens is the logical and inevitable result of the enviable portion of the average Gainesvillian—facilities not enjoyed by less favored localities, such as Ducktown, Tenn.; Gainesville, Ga., in the good old summertime, is, indeed, the logical and a great national staple meal show!

Academy for the Deaf.

Editor Constitution: I recently visited and inspected, as one of the board of visitors appointed by Governor Brown, the Academy for the Deaf, at Cave Spring, and I was therefore interested in the action of the convention of the deaf held in Atlanta some days ago. With the hope of rendering some service to these unfortunate people in the state I venture to make of the two suggestions for the consideration of our lawmakers and other persons who may be interested in the matter.

First, I regard the suggestion that the academy be moved to Macon as entirely impracticable and out of the question. With the exception of the inaccessibility to a large portion of the state, the present academy is ideally located and admirably equipped for the work. Its removal would mean practical confiscation for the state of this important and valuable property.

Second, I would urge the enactment into law of a recommendation of the board of visitors that the school superintendents be required to collect and report the number of the deaf in each county. At present there are no definite or satisfactory statistics available but it is estimated that there are about 1,000 in the state.

There were in attendance at the school at Cave Springs the past term about 120 whites and about 40 negroes.
 It is evident, therefore, that there are many of these unfortunate in the state not attending school anywhere.

In my opinion such a census as indicated would show the absolute necessity for the establishment of one or more schools similar to the one at Cave Spring, located in other sections of the state, more convenient to the people of the state than the present school. If the state is called upon to provide education and training for a portion of the deaf why should it not go further and provide for the balance of them?

The board of visitors regarded it as

CONDITIONS IN OLD BABYLON

AND IN ATLANTA COMPARED

The evening congregation of the Second Baptist church is having "A Month in Babylon." Dr. John E. White has made a close study of social and moral conditions in the ancient city.

 He knows conditions in Atlanta also,
 and he is setting up the pictures side by side. Last night the picture of the fiery furnace in Babylon was presented. The application of the sermon to local conditions was as follows:

"A strange old man appeared on the Whitehall viaduct, dazed and bewildered as though he had been dropped out of the clouds. A policeman asked him who he was and where he was from and what he wanted." He said he was from Babylon, Chaldea, B. C. 600, and that he had come from the shades to see if the world had gotten ahead any since his day.

The chamber of commerce took the old man in tow to get Atlanta in the advertising. They showed him the wonderful improvements of the modern age.
 They carried him from one amazement to another. The advance in the world was astounding. The old man was kept in a quiver of excitement all day.

He might have come one proposed that he had not yet seen the real sights. They took him on a tour of 200 evil resorts, locker clubs, dance halls, and through the dozen or more scattered vice districts. Before long they say that their distinguished guest had grown weary and was about to go to sleep. They rallied him. "Oh," he said, "there is nothing new about all that. I found it in Babylon twenty-six hundred years ago."

The Fiery Furnace.

The fiery furnace was a part of the city furniture in Babylon. It was not put there as a mere adjunct to show off the virtues of the three Hebrew youths. It was a part of the system of idolatry and a symbol of the brutality and human heartlessness of godless civilization. The deliverance of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego does not palliate the fiery furnace.
 It only sets off the fact that only three in a thousand ever got out alive.

Now, that old furnace with all its moral significance, did not end with Babylon, because godlessness and idolatry and devilry did not end with Babylon. It has been one such furnace, seven times heated, in the city of Atlanta. There are "the houses in our midst," the locker liquor clubs, and other man-runnin' resorts. They are supported by the godlessness and idolaty of our civilization. If anybody wants to know why Christian men have covenanted together against these things a little gray matter will tell him to the answer. It is simply because they are Christian men; that is all.

The Smell of Fire.

Now and then, in a private, confidential sort of way, the immoral moralists try to get on his feet by saying:
 "These things are a necessity. In the long run they really promote virtue."
 They afford the discipline of temptation required to make moral muscle."
 The Hebrew children, as often ventured as a case in point. They went into the fire and came out stronger men. I wonder what the Hebrew children would say about that?

If their escape were the regular order, the fiery furnace would soon be in disrepute. The evil resorts in Atlanta do not exist to make moral muscle.
 If they did not burn up men they would not be interesting or profitable. There are few young men who can be trusted to come to Atlanta and pass through the fiery furnaces of temptation without the smell of fire on their garments. But there are a few and they stand in the class with Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.

The public mind in Atlanta ought not to be lulled as to the terrible terrible ruin that is being wrought in the bodies and souls of men, women and children. The unrelated tolerance of institutionalized vice in our midst.</

THE OPTICAL QUESTION

SHALL I GO TO GET GLASSES?

When your friends recommend certain places or things, you want to know WHY; that's natural. When we ask you to come to us for glasses we expect you to ask the same question; in fact, we prefer you to do so.

We ask your patronage because we know we can give you satisfaction. Our Opticians are thoroughly expert in the examination of the eyes—so much so that we feel safe in guaranteeing absolutely every pair of glasses fitted.

THEN WE HAVE SERVED THE PUBLIC OVER FORTY YEARS—FAITHFULLY. Don't you think that's a pretty safe recommendation?

ROOSTER STEALS RIDE
ON SEMINOLE LIMITED

Columbus, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—When Captain A. C. Hardy, after bringing in his train, the Seminole Limited, from Birmingham, peeped under the Pullman car to see if any hobo was concealed there, a night or two ago, he had the surprise of his life, for he found a rooster quietly perched on the roof of the car.

The Seminole Limited hits only the high places in its rush from Chicago to Jacksonville, and the last stop before reaching Columbus was Opelika, Ala., 28 miles away. Trainmen think that the bird hopped aboard at Alexander City, Ala. He was a little the worse for wear after his strenuous trip, as the cinders had cut his feathers and almost put out his eyes.

Captain Hardy searched the rooster to see if he had a ticket to Jacksonville, and not finding the piece of pasteboard he officially checked for $500, thereby reducing somewhat the cost of high living for at least one of the thirty-one days in July.

NEGRO RECEIVES CHECK
FROM HERO COMMISSION

Athens, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—John Walker, a colored drayman of Madison, in the nearby county of Morgan, has received a check for $500 from the Carnegie hero commission in token of the recognition of his bravery in saving the lives of Colonel and Mrs. Ober in a runaway accident. The negro is building a home, and will apply the amount received to that purpose.

MARIETTA'S HANDSOME NEW SCHOOL BUILDING
CONSTRUCTION OF WHICH WILL START AT ONCE

This is the picture of the new Marietta High school, drawn by Architect J. R. MacEachron. This will be a very handsome building and it is hoped to have it ready for use next fall. W. D. Blair, chairman of the school board, states that work will begin on the construction of the new school at once.

UPSHAW PLEADS
FOR TIPPINS BILL

Rejoices Over Passage of Anti-Near Beer Measure in the House.

"The Georgia colony at Mineral Park Chautauqua, near Chattanooga, where I have been speaking last week were tremendously interested in the Tipping bill fight, and I know they will rejoice to learn of its overwhelming victory in the house," said William D. Upshaw, editor of The Golden Age, who has returned to the city.

"While every man in Georgia who believes in sobriety and clean politics must rejoice in the prospect of a better cleaning up of the state, the rejoicing is put into italics in the case of any loyal Georgian who travels widely beyond the borders of the state as I do.

"Numberless times I have had the liquorist lashed by Georgia thrown up to me, especially since Georgia was the pioneer prohibition state in the south. When liquor speakers in prohibition campaigns have shouted at me, 'Physician, heal thyself,' I have always answered that Georgia would soon correct the mistake that allowed 'near beer' saloons to come in.

"I see no reason why Governor Brown should veto the bill. He never said he would veto the Tipping bill, but any change in our original prohibition law. The Tipping bill does not in any sense interfere with the spirit of our anti-liquor law. It is only a corrective interpretation of that law, and any man who is opposed to the liquor business at heart must rejoice in co-operating with the good people of our state in closing up these saloons.

"The Tipping bill is a disappointing, and likewise illustrative of the fact that good men often make mistakes, to see the announcement that prominent business men of Atlanta, headed by former Mayor Maddox—who has been so generously lauded and honored by the law-abiding element of Atlanta—will make a fight on the passage of the Tipping bill. Their argument about revenue and our inability to enforce the law is the same old stock argument that the liquor people have used since organized sobriety and decency began to dispute the encroachments of the brewers and distillers upon our manhood, our peace and our politics.

"As the oldest commercial folly to talk about license revenue from drink shops, as necessary to the maintenance of a municipality or a state, when every financier with his full share of brains must know that the paltry license fee is not a drop in the bucket when compared to the enormous stream of the earnings of the common people which goes out of the state in a steady flow into the pockets of the foreign brewers and distillers, and as one who has battled for years for the inspiration and uplift of Georgia youth, I must declare that no man has a right to fight for the retention of beer saloons, whisky clubs or any other licensed evil, who is not willing to first furnish his son as a regular patron, or to allow his own daughter to marry the man who does patronize them.

"Here's to the Georgia house and senate, and a square deal for Georgia, that a square deal this law has never had."

ELECTION IN COWETA
ON BONDS FOR ROADS

Newnan, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the county commissioners an election was ordered for Wednesday, August 21, to permit the qualified voters to pass upon the question of issuing thirty-year bonds in the sum of $300,000 for the purpose of building and improving the public roads of the county.

Coweta has already a good system of roads, the result of several years' work with convict labor under the supervision of a road expert, but progress under this plan has been necessarily slow and expensive, and it is now proposed to do the work upon a more extensive and comprehensive scale. The sentiment in favor of good roads has been steadily growing the past few years, and the prospect is that the bond proposition will receive strong support on election day.

Want Court Adjourned. Greensboro, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—A petition has been presented to Judge Park, by many citizens of Greene county, requesting that the July term of Greene superior court, be adjourned on the twenty-second of this month, on account of the unusual condition of the weather that has prevailed during the entire year. The petition states that, on account of the condition of the crops, it is absolutely necessary that the farmers should not be forced to leave their farms. On the fourth Monday in this month, court will convene and will dispose of all cases where it is not necessary to have a jury.

ATLANTA RATES
KNOCKED BY GREEN

They Are Too Low, Says Traffic Manager—Blames Georgia Railroad Commission.

Duluth, Minn., July 14.—L. Green, traffic manager for the Southern railroad, testifying Saturday in the case of the Atlanta, Ga., traffic bureau against several roads from the Atlantic seaboard, said the rates now in existence are really too low, and that the plan is not to be further reduced. The present low rate, made in 1905, he said, was forced on the railroad by the hostility of the Georgia railroad commission. Distance, he testified, has little to do with the present schedule, which, if based upon mileage, would be much higher.

"The rates are lower than they ought to be on the distance and service, and should not be disturbed," he said. H. H. Laughon, connected with the clerical department of the same road, gave evidence of a technical nature regarding the cost of operation and maintenance of the line, intended to show an increase and sustain the former witness in the position that a lowering of rates cannot occur without an unreasonable loss to the company.

After Laughon had finished Commissioner Meyer adjourned the taking of evidence until October 3, at Washington, D. C.

VALDOSTA COUNCIL ROWS
OVER INSPECTION FEES

Valdosta, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The butchers and dairymen of Valdosta and the mayor and council are at loggerheads over the question of inspection fees. A pretty row is coming unless one side or the other backs down, and the public is wondering if either side will back. The butchers say they do not object to the inspection of their meats and markets, but they do not want to pay the fee required. They also object to the hours set for inspection—6 a. m. to 9 a. m., and say that it is impracticable for them to get their meats ready for the inspector within that time.

A much-needed ordinance regulating the inspection of dairies and markets was recently passed by the city council and Dr. W. M. Howell employed as inspector. An ordinance passed the ordinance providing for a fee for each hog or sheep inspected, and 20c for each hog or sheep inspected, the owner to pay the fee. A kick was made by the meat men, and the council agreed to make the fees one-half the original amount. It was expected by the health committee of council that this reduction would be satisfactory, and that it would be accepted by the market men. The latter declined to see it that way, however, and the council is now trying to fight the matter. They have employed an attorney and will resist the payment of the fee. The city council will take action on the matter, but it is not known, but it is probable that a meeting to deal with the matter will be called within a few days. The city inspector is paid a salary, and the inspection fees go into the city treasury.

MEETS AT WARM SPRINGS

Newnan, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Hon. W. L. Stallings, chairman, called a meeting of the congressional executive committee of the fourth district for Monday next, at Warm Springs. In prescribing rules for the primary it is not anticipated that the committee will depart from the custom which has obtained heretofore in this district, and will again favor the county unit plan of choosing delegates to the convention.

Congressman Adamson has no opposition thus far, and is not likely to have, it seems. Judge I. J. Denham, of Marion, was spoken of early in the spring as a probable candidate, but all talk of his suggested candidacy appears to have subsided.

M'CRARY GIVEN OVER TO HANDS OF SHERIFF

Athens, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—R. H. McCrary, cashier of the defunct Athens Trust and Banking company, and indicted in several cases for alleged infraction of the state banking laws, was last night relinquished by his bondsman, the father of his wife, to the hands of the sheriff. McCrary was not the only one against whom indictments were found for a number of charges—violations of several of the banking statutes, and embezzlement being charges made in the series of cases. An uncle of McCrary was also indicted—he was one of the board of directors of the bank. The president, J. W. Griffin, was also indicted in more than one bill.

IVY ST. EXAMPLE
MAY BE FOLLOWED

Property Owners of Other Thoroughfares May Finance Improvements.

Since public-spirited citizens have made a proposition to the city to finance the improvement of Ivy street, property owners on other streets are taking steps to see if the example set by the Ivy street people cannot be followed.

It is being pointed out that if property owners on West Peachtree street, Spring street, Forrest avenue, Georgia avenue, East Fair street and the Boulevard will go as the property owners on Ivy street have done all those streets can be improved at once, and that such a plan might be better for the city than issuing bonds or borrowing the money, for under the plan proposed for Ivy street the city can repay the money in yearly installments without a cent of interest.

The citizens on the north side of Atlanta are now realizing the absolute need of some well-graded and well-paved street that is parallel to Peachtree and they are urging the street committee of council to accept the proposition of the Ivy street property owners. With Ivy street regraded and repaved traffic congestion on Peachtree will be relieved south of Forrest avenue. North of Forrest avenue Peachtree street is much wider than that part of the street south of Forrest avenue. When Ivy street is put into a good driveway all vehicles entering into the city from the north side can use the street and such cross streets as Houston street, Auburn avenue and Edgewood avenue. It simply will mean an outlet for the north side and a relief that is an absolute necessity.

Joel Hurt, George H. Hope and Martin S. Amorus have proposed to the street committee of council to raise all the money necessary to improve the street, the city repaying them some time in the future when the money is available.

The street committee meets Tuesday afternoon to decide the matter, and it is believed that the proposition will be accepted without a dissenting vote.

LAUNCH NIGHT SCHOOL

Columbus, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—An interesting educational enterprise now being launched in Columbus is a night school inaugurated by the Rose Hill Baptist church, one of the most progressive congregations in the city. Rev. R. C. Granberry, the pastor, and a board of directors composed of substantial and representative business men, have the affairs of the school in charge. A splendid faculty has been secured, the personnel of instructors being very high. G. Gunby Jordan, one of the leading business men, who has given the school his hearty endorsement, is quoted as saying that he doubted if there was a business school in the whole country that could boast such a capable faculty as the Rose Hill night school.

COAST LINE EXTENSION TO SKIP MONTICELLO

Thomasville, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—That the extension of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad from Thomasville to Tampa via Perry will not go through Monticello, Fla., has been positively decided according to the report of T. L. Clarke and Abe Simons, committee from the Business Men's association of Jefferson county, who have just returned from a visit to the officials of the road at Wilmington, N. C. The road will come within about a mile and a half of the town on the west side, exactly opposite to where the present road from Thomasville to Monticello is.

The committee states that President Emerson said that it was a matter of great regret to the company that they could not carry the line directly through the town or nearer to it as desired, but that owing to the heavy grades that would be encountered in building in that direction they did not consider it advisable to try it. A line from Perry into Monticello to connect with the present road from Thomasville would entail a heavy expense on account of the vast amount of grading to be done and it will be a saving to the road to build a new direct line from Thomasville to Perry going to the west of Monticello.

CUPID GOT BUSY
IN TRAIN WRECK

Romantic Meeting Ends in Wedding of Herman Moll and Miss Clark.

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—A wreck on the Georgia Southern and Florida railway near Cordale last January was directly responsible for a wedding in Macon today. Herman Moll, of Macon, was a passenger on the wrecked train and was compelled to remain at the scene of the wreck for four hours before he could continue to his destination. During that time he met Miss Murell Clark, of Adel. The two continued their friendship by correspondence, and a few days ago decided to cast their lot together.

Miss Clark left home Sunday, telling her parents that she was going to Vienna to spend the day with friends. Instead of that, she met Mr. Moll at Cordale and the two came to Macon, where they were married by Rev. J. M. Foster, pastor of the First Street Methodist church.

No Reply from Bartlett.

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—It begins to look as though it is up to Congressman C. L. Bartlett, of the sixth district, to speak or forever remain silent, say his two opponents in the race, at the coming election. Both sides in the debate with them the issues of the campaign, but so far neither has heard from the incumbent, with a record of eighteen years on the job.

TWENTY-ONE RUNNING
IN CHARLTON COUNTY

Brunswick, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—There are now twenty-one candidates out in Charlton county for state and county officers at the coming election. In recent years held in that county the principal fight being waged is between A. G. Gwyn, Sr., W. M. O'Neil and C. L. Cowart for senatorial honors from the fourth district, which includes Glynn, Camden and Charlton. As it is Charlton's turn by the rotation system to furnish a senator for this district, all candidates, of course, come only from that county and the other two counties vote on them.

Two candidates have announced for the lower house, George W. Reynolds and Joseph P. Mizell. The office of assessor is sought by J. D. Hatch, J. L. Prescott, C. N. Mills, Thomas W. Vickery, F. M. Roddenberry. For commissioner of roads and revenue, E. L. Martin, J. H. Sikes, J. B. Lloyd, J. P. Franks and E. B. Stokes are candidates. For treasurer, J. S. Grooms, F. D. Mills. For tax collector, John M. Roddenberry. For sheriff, W. H. Mizell, J. A. Wainwright and H. J. Davis.

TO BUILD DIPPING VAT
FOR BALDWIN FARMERS

Milledgeville, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The Milledgeville oil mills are planning to encourage the growing of live stock in Baldwin county. They will construct a dipping vat for riding cattle of the Texas tick, which causes such a loss in this section, and virtually prevents the development of the live stock industry. The first vat will be located at the farm of Terrance Treanor, just across the river near the city, and others will be built later. It is probable that the state sanitarium will establish another. These will all be under government supervision.

BALDWIN TO PURCHASE
MODERN ROAD ENGINE

Milledgeville, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—It has been arranged that Baldwin county will have a modern traction engine to work the roads of the county, the county commissioners having accepted tentatively a proposition to purchase a machine providing it is found to work successfully. The tractor will do the work of more than double the number of mules now used on the roads and will do it more thoroughly and effectively. This investment meets with the approval of all who are in touch with the work and they are confident that a rich harvest will be reaped from it in the way of good roads and increased land values. The tractor will be at work within a short time.

DEADLY POISON
FOUND IN WELL

Attempt on Lives of Family of E. D. Flowers, Macon, Suspected.

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—That a deliberate attempt was made to poison the family of E. D. Flowers, 317 Chappell street, South Macon, is the belief of an expert chemist who has made an examination of a sample of the water taken from the well about two weeks ago.

One day when a member of the family pumped some of the water from the well it was found to have turned a pink color. Fearing that something was the matter with the water orders were given by Mr. Flowers that none of it should be used. Then a sample was sent to a chemist and his analysis shows the water contains a coal tar preparation, but exactly which one is not known. However, the analysis shows that the poison is deadly.

Why anyone should attempt to poison members of the Flowers family is a mystery. Mr. Flowers declares that neither he nor any member of his family has had any trouble with anyone.

VALDOSTA PLANS ISSUE OF IMPROVEMENT BONDS

Valdosta, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—A bond election for the issuance of $100,000 worth of public improvement bonds is called for July 23, and the indications are that the bonds will carry with plenty of votes to spare. In fact practically no opposition to bonds has been heard. The bonds are to be used for the following purposes: For waterworks extension, $35,000; for street paving, $25,000; for sewerage extension, $10,000; for sanitary improvement and extension, $5,000. A two-thirds vote is necessary to carry for bonds. The improvements contemplated in the bond issue are badly needed, and the growth of the city will be badly handicapped without the funds.

CIDER IN HUNTSVILLE
SEIZED BY SHERIFF

Huntsville, Ala., July 14.—(Special.)—It is a dangerous proposition to sell apple cider in Huntsville, especially if it is mixed with some chemical that is designed to make it more than naturally intoxicating. There has been quite a run on apple cider in and around this city since the apple season began and the report reached the ears of the sheriff's force that the cider being dispensed in some places is a great deal stronger than it really ought to be. Two raids were immediately made on cold drink stands where cider was being sold. The first was at a place operated in Dallas by Tommy Dory Plinton, where eight gallons of cider was confiscated. Cleveland Christian and Will Haralson, who operate a stand on West Clinton street, were arrested later in the day and their place was raided, about 54 gallons of cider being seized. Cider in either place was taken for inspection of a chemist.

NEW CREMATORY
BEFORE COUNCIL

Report of Finance Committee Will in All Probability Be Adopted.

The city council will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in regular semi-monthly session. The most important matter to come up will be the report of the finance committee on the adoption of an amendment to the original contract between the city and the New York Destructor company, which places the title of the new crematory in the New York company, while the city will control and operate the plant as soon as it is finished. The company to hold the title until the city makes the last payment of $75,000, which will be in 1914. It was necessary to make this amendment to the contract in order that the company might finance the project on the city's moral obligation. It is believed that council will adopt the finance committee's report without a dissenting vote. When the mayor approves the paper the company will sign the contract, give bond and begin the actual work of constructing the plant at once.

COMMITTEE IN THOMAS
ARRANGES FOR PRIMARY

Thomasville, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Thomas county democratic executive committee was held yesterday to arrange matters in regard to holding the county primary for the election of officers. It was decided that this primary should be held at the same time as the state primary, the 21st of August, and the same rules governing that primary should apply.

Captain John Triplett was selected as member of the congressional executive committee from Thomas county, with J. B. Stubbs as alternate. Captain Triplett has represented Thomas county on this committee for a number of years, and it is always expected that he will be named again.

Looks Bright.

THE ROAD TRIP OF THE CRACKERS, which is now under way, does not look as dark as former trips. With every player in good condition and playing good baseball, things really look bright. More games should be won on the trip than are lost. But will they? We could only break even at home.

The Hot Weather.

TY COBB has been holding in. Such a statement with him hitting over 400 sounds queer, but it is really the case. Cobb never starts hitting with regularity until the hot weather of July sets in. During the past week Cobb has been getting two, three and four hits a game, and if he keeps up the same clip this July and August that he did in the same months in 1911, he is going to make that 420 mark of last season look like 20 cents. With his team out of the pennant fight, Cobb is sure to try to eclipse all former batting marks and at the rate he is now tearing up the turf, he is in a fair way to do it.

Congratulations.

MIKE BALENTI, the Lookouts' Indian shortstop, is now Papa Mike. He has just received word from Alaska of the birth of a 10-pound son. Mrs. Balenti and the boy are both doing well, so the Indians are happy. Balenti, anxious to corral all promising talent, has tendered Mike, Jr., a contract for the year 1913. The new Balenti is considering the figure, which he says is entirely too small for so promising a ball player.

A Big Event.

THE INVITATION golf tournament of the Atlanta Athletic club, which begins on Thursday, will be a big event. It is the second annual tournament of the club, and interest is not lessening in the last. Many cracks from out-of-town will be present and, with the handsome trophies that have been offered, the contest should be fierce. The course is in ideal shape, too, for a big tournament, and many good scores should be made.

Try It Out.

THE PLAYERS in the big leagues who object to coming to the Southern league because of the climatic conditions, which they believe is so unbearable, ought to play down here once. If they will just read the papers and see where there are numerous hot prostrations on the diamond in the east and west and no mention whatsoever of such an occurrence, they will see that they would speedily pick the south for their ball playing.

Grab Honors.

THE JOHNSTON boys, Doc, of New Orleans, and Jimmy, of Birmingham, are grabbing off all the honors in individual ability in this league, as a story printed elsewhere on this page will prove. Look at the figures and judge for yourself. Those Johnston boys are some ball players, eh? Well, rather.

His Hobby.

ZIMMERMAN, the slugging infielder of the Chicago Cubs, and the leading batter of the league, has a hobby. That is, he has a hobby. The Cubs' third-sacker has one hundred ties of various shapes, colors and classes, and there are always a number of them. He never wears the same tie two days in succession.

Pick Your Team.

THE GIANTS and the Red Sox will do battle for the world's title this fall. That's a pretty safe bet right now. It looks like a plain case of pick your team and then pick your bets. And it's going to be a pretty hard job to pick a winner right now. But from this angle it looks like another American league victory.

Season's Record.

M'ALLISTER, catcher of the Montgomery Blikkens, has a season's record to his credit. In a recent game in Memphis he did not have a put out, an assist or an error during the entire nine innings, which is really a remarkable state of affairs.

More Hard Luck.

HYDER BARR, former Cracker player, is out of the game for the season. He wrenched his knee in the game against Mobile Saturday. More hard luck for the Lookouts.

One Man's Way.

"In Brimmon a man who makes the best of what befalls." No. When things go wrong Brimmon starts to swear, and soon becomes so interested in thinking up new forms of profanity that he forgets all about his troubles.

BILL SMITH'S THREAT.

BILL SMITH, manager of the Chattanooga club, broke back in the Southern league as a player yesterday after an absence of six years. During this period Billy has continually been a bench manager in the circuit with the exception of one year, when he mugged at Buffalo in the International league.

Manager Smith recently stated that he might get back in the game, and a few days ago signed a player's contract which gave him the right to appear on the coaching line. Saturday Hyder Barr was seriously injured, and Billy donned the spangles and jumped in the fray at New Orleans yesterday. He recently stated that he believed he would hit 260 if he got back in the game again. His average yesterday was .500.

Billy retired from the Southern league as an active player on July 4, 1906. At that time he was manager of the Atlanta club and played center field. On the afternoon of the Fourth he derided Doc Childs, a native son who was pitching for the Crackers, after the opponents had made a rally. The fans thought Smith's playing in center field was more responsible for the rally than was Child's pitching, and when Bill came to the bat they hissed him for several minutes. At the close of the game Smith said he would never play another game in the league. He observed the threat until yesterday.

TOOLE FIRES DONAHUE

Of Other Towns Will Assemble Here This Week

Mobile, Ala., July 14.—(Special.)—Mobile defeated Atlanta in a batting contest this afternoon that was slow, due to the terrific heat, and which was called at the end of the first half of the eighth inning on account of rain. The score was 3 to 3.

In the final inning of the game a terrific lightning and rain storm came to the grand stand, and at 7 o'clock the Atlanta team outbatted Mobile and practically had the game won until the seventh inning, when Sittion blew a home run, which was followed by a two-run homer by the Atlanta team, which was just enough to win, although from the way the visitors were hitting Campbell it looked as though the locals would have been defeated. McKelven and Callahan did the long hitting for the visitors, the former securing a three-bagger and the latter a two-bagger.

Campbell Was Lucky.

Campbell, who had a home run, hung all over him and the visiting team should have won easily but for the weakness of Sittion, who succeeded Becker after he had retired on account of the terrible drive from Starr's bat that split his pitching hand.

O'Toole drove Donahue from the game in the second half of the first inning for jawing and throwing his bat. Sittion, who had been hit by Donahue, led his teammates in the hitting. The change was a benefit to the visitors, with the exception of the fatal seventh.

Jacobson, the big left fielder, started a home run in the second inning. McKelven started the run getting on base, and Jacobson drove in the run. Paul went out from second to first on O'Toole's drive, and the runner went to second base. Dunn scored O'Brien with a two-bagger to center. Campbell was an easy out from second to first. Dunn going to third. Maloney ended the inning by flying out to second.

Atlanta tied the score and added one to the good in the fourth inning. After Hemphill went out from second to first, Johnston, who followed him, hit a safe to left. Graham then stung one to centerfield. Sittion drove a pass. Agler hit to second and beat the ball to first, scoring Harrison. But Sittion was caught at the second station on the play. Alperman drove in the tying run with a safe hit to centerfield. Graham coming over the plate easily. Callahan tried hard to untie the score, but the best he could do was to drive a high fly to right field.

Hemphill Scored O'Toole. Hemphill was sore tonight over the treatment accorded by O'Toole in removing Donahue from the game, and while on the field he expressed himself two or three times to the umpire.

Harrison's work at short was the most remarkable seen here this season. He made two great pick-ups of hard hit balls that he sent to first on the run each time. He was given an ovation each time by the crowd in the stand.

the Canadian. Both were in fine condition. Forshaw ran as easily as when he started and waved his hand in response to cheers. The king and queen and crown princess in the royal box applauded the first corners, and the crown prince greeted them effectively.

A Greek who finished twenty-fifth, a period of more than three minutes elapsed before Sockalexis and Duffy came through. Then a dozen or more arrived in quick succession.

Each runner displaying the American shield got a rousing cheer when he passed the American stand. Everyone on the American runners came in strongly. Forshaw ran as easily as when he started and waved his hand in response to cheers. The king and queen and crown princess in the royal box applauded the first corners, and the crown prince greeted them effectively.

Went Out to Win or Die.
 "I went out to win or die," said McArthur after the race. "I am proud to win for Africa and for myself."

McArthur is anything but a Hayes-Dorando-Tewanima type of runner. He is 29 years of age, 6 feet tall and weighs 174 pounds. His career suffered from bad luck. He went to Greece for a Marathon which was postponed on account of political troubles, and afterwards went to England to take part in one which was postponed on account of the death of King Edward.

The American contestants hardly came up to the expectations of Hayes, who has had them under his care. He attributes this largely to the extreme heat. Many of the men today were compelled to slow up at times to take refreshments.

Other American Victories.

During the running of the Marathon other events were being held in the stadium. M. J. McGrath, New York, unattached, won the final in the hammer throw, with 144 meters 74 centimeters (147 feet 7 1/2 inches), which beats the former Olympic record made by the American, John Flanagan, at the London Olympic by more than 9 feet, but was about the same distance short of the world's record held by McGrath. The Canadian, D. Gillis, was second, with a throw of 158 feet 9 1/2 inches, while the American, C. C. Childs, was third, with 158 feet. The American, John Flanagan, at the London Olympic by more than 9 feet, but was about the same distance short of the world's record held by McGrath. The Canadian, D. Gillis, was second, with a throw of 158 feet 9 1/2 inches, while the American, C. C. Childs, was third, with 158 feet.

The chief swimming event of the day was the final in the 400-meter free style, which the Canadian, George Hodgson, won with another world's record, with a credit—5 minutes 24 1/2 seconds. The British, Hatfield, finished second, behind him, with 5 minutes 30 1/2 seconds, while the American, John Flanagan, was third, with 5 minutes 31 1/2 seconds.

The American runners easily won their heat, with the world's record, 1:50.00, set by the American, John Flanagan, at the London Olympic. The British and French teams tomorrow in the final.

Seven events have been concluded in the Decathlon, in which there are several American entries.

Barons Win Handily.
 Memphis, Tenn., July 14.—Birmingham widened the margin by which the team holds the lead for the season's championship, when the away game here ended 10 to 4 with Memphis at the little end of the horn. The visitors hit the ball hard, but Birmingham's hits were at inopportune times.

 Montgomery, Ala., July 14.—Nashville romped on Aitchison today, to tally sixteen hits, and won the game 10 to 4. The visitors hit the ball hard and kept his scattered except in the fourth inning. The Yankees home run to deep right field featured the game. Welchone turned his ankle in sliding into first and still be out of the game for a few days. CRACKERS IN CELLAR; OTHER CLUBS CHANGE

Important changes marked the standing of the clubs in the Southern and National league races at the close of the games yesterday.

By losing to the Mobile club yesterday the Atlanta team dropped into last position in the Southern league race. Nashville has been in the cellar almost constantly since the league race started, but the Vols crawled ahead of the Crackers when they defeated Johnny Dobbs' batting Bullocks while Atlanta was nosed out of a close game at Mobile.

Other changes were made in the Southern league race. By winning from Atlanta, Mobile went from third to second place, sending back Memphis, which was defeated by Birmingham.

ham, Chattanooga won from New Orleans and is now tied with Memphis for third position.

The surprise of the National league race was the double defeat of the Giants at the hands of the St. Louis Browns. Rube Marquard is given credit for a double loss, having gone into the first game with the score tied and allowed the winning run, while St. Louis knocked him out of the box in the second game and won handily.

The only change in the National league race yesterday was a change of positions by Philadelphia and Cincinnati, the Reds dropping into the second division for the first time in the season when they lost to the Phillies in a close game.

"COBB IS GAME'S GREATEST"

—CY YOUNG.

By "Cy" Young.

Ty Cobb is the greatest of them all. In my baseball experience, covering almost a quarter of a century, I have never seen an all-around player the equal of the Detroit man.

There may be other players almost, if not quite, so fast as Cobb. Lajoie has it on the "Georgia Peach" or straight-away hitting, other outfielders may throw a drive better, but for work, day in and day out, Cobb hasn't an equal.

At bat he hasn't a weakness. It has been my experience that you can fool him, possibly, one day, on a certain kind of ball, and the next time you face him he will whale the cover off the same ball.

On the bases he is wonderful. He uses both his head and his feet and I sometimes wonder if the former isn't more responsible for his success than the latter.

Cobb can size up a baseball situation like a flash and the way he divines plays is uncanny.

On the paths he doesn't know the meaning of the word fear and this lack of timidity helps him.

In the field, too, he is a wonder. He uses splendid judgment in playing for batters and his marvelous speed enables him to retire batters on balls that others would play safe.

Able to hit, to field, to throw, to run bases and to do each in phenomenal fashion, coupled with his nerve and confidence, Cobb is the greatest player that ever wore a spiked shoe.

1876—St. Louis won the third time in succession shut out the Hartford, the respective scores being 2-0, 3-0 and 2-0.

1892—Pittsburgh defeated Washington 12-0 at Pittsburgh.

1894—The Cincinnati made five home runs off George Cuyler, who pitched for the Cleveland Indians. They also got seven singles and three doubles. In all they got 15 hits for a total of 35 bases.

1896—Boston defeated Pittsburgh 1-0 in 11 innings, Willis pitching against Tannehill.

1900—Christy Mathewson, New York Giants, pitched a no-hit game against St. Louis Browns.

1902—Omaha Western League club, with Mordecai Brown pitching, defeated Chicago Cubs 12-3.

1902—Mathewson, Smith and O'Hagan, New York Giants, made a triple play against Cincinnati.

1903—New York Giants, Mathewson pitching, took the Pittsburgh Pirates into camp 6-2 in 14 innings—the longest game of the year in the National League.

1904—Fred Glade, St. Louis Browns, struck out 15 Washingtons in nine innings.

1905—Announcement was made of the sale of the Chicago Nationals to Charles Webb Murphy.

1907—Chicago White Sox annihilated the New York Highlanders 15-0. Bombed pitchers: Al Orth and Earle Moore.

1907—Boston Red Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns 5-2 in 16 innings. Tannehill pitching against Peitz.

1908—Cleveland humiliated New York 12-1, collecting 17 runs off Billy Hoge and Joe Doyle.

1909—Ty Cobb, Detroit, made two home runs off C. Smith, Washington.

1910—Jack Lapp, Athletics, had 15 strikeouts and 2 assists behind the bat in a game against the St. Louis Browns. His record was made up of nine strike outs, the putting out of two men at the plate, four fouls and the throwing out of two men who tried to steal.

1911—Boston defeated Chicago Cubs 12-15. Joe Tinker making a home run with the bases full of runners.

1911—Fred Luderus, Phillies, made two home runs off Adams, Pittsburgh.

MAY NEED A DESSAU.

Charley Hemphill may regret the sale of Pitcher Dessau before the present road trip is over.

Buck Becker was injured in the game at Mobile yesterday when he attempted to flag a stiff poke from Starr's bat. He was so badly hurt that he retired from the game, and it may be some time before he is able to get back again.

Pitcher Dessau, now en route to Kansas City, stated Saturday that his arm was in fine shape. He expects to jump right in the game when he joins his new club, and is confident of getting away in good shape.

If Becker's injury keeps him from the game for any length of time, a pitcher of Dessau's class may be badly needed before the swing around the southern division of the league is over.

Keeping Track of Communicable Diseases.

At the tenth annual conference of the state and territorial health authorities with the public health and marine-hospital service recently held in Washington, a resolution was adopted which is carried out, should become an important factor in the future development of public health work in the United States. The object of the action taken is to develop a plan by which the state health authorities can keep currently informed of the prevalence and geographic distribution of communicable diseases throughout the country as a whole, and by promptly notified of the occurrence of epidemics in states other than their own.

In these days of rapid travel, in which the railroad has made as close neighbors of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts as the New York and Pennsylvania a century ago, every state should, for its proper protection, have knowledge of the sanitary conditions in other states, and as to the communicable diseases every state is certainly entitled to full information regarding their prevalence in every other state.

The resolutions ask the health departments of the several states to report by telegraph to the public health service whenever cases of cholera, yellow fever, typhus fever, plague or Rocky Mountain spotted fever occur within their respective jurisdictions.

The service is then to notify all the states of the occurrence of such cases and where necessary measures be taken to control the disease and prevent its spread into uninfected territory. The health department is then to make a monthly report of all the diseases that are notifiable in their respective states.

The health department of the Public Health Reports and in this manner reach all health authorities without delay. The effect will be that the health departments of the states will make the public health service bureau through the medium of the Public Health Reports a clearing house or current information of the prevalence of the communicable diseases. The Journal of the American Medical Association says that the advantage of such a plan is apparent when it is considered that by far the larger part of public health work consists in the control of these diseases, and that the health department is a knowledge of where and how frequently it occurs.

The summer cold is directly traceable to an inactive liver. You get overheated and cool off too suddenly. The pores of the skin become closed, the blood recedes from the surface of the body and a congestion is produced. The same condition follows when you sit in a draft or get wet. The liver finds its efforts overcome by pressure of the blood, and food remains in the stomach or bowels. The head gets hot, the feet cold and the bowels constipated. Right then and there is the danger point. The bowels must be kept open. The system must be relieved of congestion.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is the greatest known relief. It is better than calomel. It will rejuvenate the liver, send the blood racing through the veins, dispel the congestion and make you feel as if life is worth living.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT acts quickly and mildly, and never grips or nauseates. Don't take an inferior substitute. Some stores may offer other preparations upon which they make large profits often similar in name, but very different in action. JACOBS' LIVER SALT is 25c for a 1/4-lb. jar at druggists or sent by mail (enclose 16c additional). Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta, Ga.

John Drew was interviewed by a newspaper man and at last realized that he would have a hard time getting rid of the visitor. The writer seemed determined to sit forever in spite of the signs of sleepiness exhibited by the actor.

"I suppose I seem like a night owl," said the visitor when the clock pointed to nearly 3 o'clock in the morning. "As a matter of fact, I'm just tired. I suffer intolerably with insomnia. I wonder what's the best thing to do for it."

"The best thing," suggested Drew smoothly, "if you'll step into the next room while I undress I'll show you how to do it."

"HUNT AND RUN" FOR THE REBELS

Gen. Orozco Ready to Begin
His Guerrilla Warfare.

Juarez Will Be Abandoned and
New Base Established at Agua Prieta—It Is Said Orozco
Has Amassed $500,000
Since He Begun Rebellion.

Juarez, Mex., July 14.—Bullet-scarred Juarez, once the battle ground where Madero won his revolution against Diaz, also birthplace of the present revolution and chief cause of internal apprehension, may be had for the asking before the end of the week.

All indications today pointed to an early evacuation by the rebels of the border town opposite El Paso. Less than 400 men guard the town now and preparations are making for their removal 141 miles southwestward to Casas Grandes, the new rebel base on the Mexican Northwestern railroad.

To Help Orozco Make "Getaway."

General Pascual Orozco, Jr., the rebel chief, his father, Colonel Pascual Orozco, and his nephew, Colonel Jose Orozco, are the only rebel leaders in town. All other officers and their men have been sent to Casas Grandes. The detachments operating along the Mexican central south of here are merely occupied with tearing up the railroad. They will ride overland to Casas Grandes, where they will be done. General Orozco, it is announced, will go south to join these forces in three or four days.

Many offers are coming to General Orozco to help him make a "getaway."

Several ambitious Americans, believing Orozco has amassed a private fortune of a half a million dollars in the revolution, have approached him with schemes of various kinds to help him escape.

There is no charge against General Orozco or his family on the American side of the line but apprehension that extradition may be trumped up on technical grounds has kept the male members of the Orozco family from crossing into the United States ever since the revolution began.

Rebels After Agua Prieta.

As a port of entry and base of supplies, particularly for ammunition, Juarez has proved of considerable value. The rebels now are after Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Ariz., and Colonel Castula Herrera and thirty of his expert ammunition-getters are en route there now, being a rebel force that intends to fight its way through the state of Sonora toward the American border. When the federals concentrate enough forces to chase the rebels from Agua Prieta, the rebel plan is to evacuate again and make a dash for the coast, taking Guaymas and other ports from which to gain supplies. The guerrilla warfare is intended to be a "hunt and run" affair throughout northwestern Mexico.

The rebels now are gathering cattle and provisions around Casas Grandes for their westward meanderings.

Stories of loot and confiscation in that region continue to come in, the company and the Mexican Northwestern railroad being the principal sufferers.

38TH GEORGIA TO MEET IN LITHONIA WEDNESDAY

The annual reunion of the Thirty-eighth Georgia regiment will be held at Lithonia, Wednesday, July 24, and all members of that command, their families and friends are invited to be present.

The affair this year promises to be one of the most interesting held in recent years because of the fact that an attractive list of speakers have been secured. The address of welcome will be made by the mayor of Lithonia, and other prominent citizens of that place will take part. General A. J. West, Judge Rodgers, Captain Harrison and others have accepted invitations to be present and take part in the exercises. The program of the day will be a big basket picnic, which will be followed by a number of athletic contests for the younger folks who are present. The veterans will spend the remainder of the day in visiting with each other and discussing incidents of the war.

FALL FROM FENCE PROVES FATAL TO FRANK WOOD

A fall from a fence some days ago resulted fatally to Frank A. Wood yesterday when he died at the Grady hospital from injuries to his skull received at that time.

Wood was arrested last week on a whiskey charge, and on Tuesday was sent to the stockade to begin service of a sentence imposed by the recorder. He was sitting on top of a high fence resting, as he had not been well, when he was seized with a fainting spell and fell over. He was knocked unconscious and died Sunday.

He was of middle age, and recently has been staying at the Eal house, on Decatur street. Nothing is known of his family, but it is said he leaves two sons, both of whom are residents of Atlanta.

ANOTHER AUTO MISSING; THIRD THEFT REPORTED

When W. B. Stewart, of the Byron apartments, drove his big Cole "39" automobile in front of the Walton building last night about 8 o'clock, and started into the Transportation club, he forgot to remove the spark plug from the machine. An hour later, after he had finished dining at the club with a party of friends, all came down to enjoy a ride in his car. It was nowhere to be seen, and no trace of it has yet been subject. This makes the third automobile theft that has occurred in the city during the past week.

Talks on Law of Service.—Professor William Holloway, who fills the chair of sociology at Talladega college, was the speaker at the Young Men's Christian association for colored men yesterday afternoon. Taking as a basis of his discourse the parable of the talents, he presented in a very forceful manner the law of service. The point was brought out by the secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, that the young men best prepared by training and experience to do real Christian work in saving young men for greater service, were the ones you can scarcely get hold of. They seem to feel that if they are saved that is enough—a kind of self-sufficiency that is destructive to spiritual growth.

Seen at Coney Island.

(From The New York Sun.)

A young man who insisted on coming out with a lavender bathing suit and stockings and a little skull cap with a milk-pom on it, was seen coming to him from other bathers early in the day. Other eccentric costumes were returned. A man who tried bathing in pajamas at the foot of West Twentieth street was sent back to his boarding house by Harvey Brown, proprietor of the Majestic Bath. Further along the line a young man who wanted to go into the water in his B. V. D. was spirited off of shore before the bathers had a chance for horseplay.

France to Tax Signboards.

(From The Westminster Gazette.)

Passengers from London to Paris will be delighted at the news that the Journey on French soil will be, in all probability, no longer disfigured by the thousands of hideous advertisements that at present line the railway. M. Klotz, the minister of finance, has recently proposed a law by which a prohibitive tax is to be placed upon all such disfiguring boardings. Where, at present these signboards are allowed to stand, the tax will be from one to two shillings each, henceforward, according to the proposed law, the tax will be changed into an annual duty of 75s a square yard of advertisement.

The tax will be doubled or tripled if the sign contain two or three announcements. Moreover, the tax upon the land on which the signs are erected is to be increased by the amount of profit which the landlord derives from allowing their erection, so that all possible inducement to let space for the purpose will be removed. Undoubtedly the effect of such legislation will be even more desirable in France than in England, for in France the evil is greatest.

Locomobile

THE Locomobile Company, having long since attained a material lead in fundamentals, has been able to devote unlimited attention to new details and new features. As a result, the 1913 models offer more luxury and more comfort than can be found elsewhere.

For 1913 the Locomobile will be built in three sizes: the long stroke Six "48," developing 82 horse-power; the Little Six, developing over 60 horse-power, and the "30" four cylinder, developing 41 horse-power.

The Six "48" will be equipped with touring, torpedo, roadster, limousine and landaulet bodies. $5,000 to $6,100.

The Little Six will include all the above with the addition of berlines. $4,300 to $5,550.

The "30" four cylinder will be in touring, torpedo and roadster models. $3,600.

In addition to new body designs which express unique ideas as well as the latest features of American and European practice, these cars include every feature contributive to the comfort and convenience of the passengers or the driver.

The long, sweeping straight line bodies are united to the bonnet by a well-shaped curved dash. The body surfaces are unmarred and unbroken by hinges or handles. Long wheel base, perfect spring suspension, absolute balance and ten-inch upholstery assure the maximum of comfort.

Ventilated glass fronts, integral with the curved dash, dynamos supplying all lights, air compressors for inflating the tires, Disco Starter for starting the motor, all are contributory factors for convenience. The equipment includes quick detachable, demountable rims.

Talks on Law of Service.—Professor William Holloway, who fills the chair of sociology at Talladega college, was the speaker at the Young Men's Christian association for colored men yesterday afternoon. Taking as a basis of his discourse the parable of the talents, he presented in a very forceful manner the law of service. The point was brought out by the secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, that the young men best prepared by training and experience to do real Christian work in saving young men for greater service, were the ones you can scarcely get hold of. They seem to feel that if they are saved that is enough—a kind of self-sufficiency that is destructive to spiritual growth.

Seen at Coney Island.

(From The New York Sun.)

A young man who insisted on coming out with a lavender bathing suit and stockings and a little skull cap with a milk-pom on it, was seen coming to him from other bathers early in the day. Other eccentric costumes were returned. A man who tried bathing in pajamas at the foot of West Twentieth street was sent back to his boarding house by Harvey Brown, proprietor of the Majestic Bath. Further along the line a young man who wanted to go into the water in his B. V. D. was spirited off of shore before the bathers had a chance for horseplay.

Mrs. Morris Wiseberg.

The Mrs. Morris Wiseberg, who died Saturday, will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence, 362 Washington street, Dr. David Marx officiating. Interment will be in Oakland.

Agnes Cook.

Agnes, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cook, of Center Hill, died Sunday afternoon at a private sanitarium. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock, followed by the interment in New Hope churchyard.

Death of Infant.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Spence, aged 10 months, died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be held today at 10 o'clock from the residence on Chapel road Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be held today at 10 o'clock from the residence on Chapel road Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Alice S. Bookwalter.

Mrs. Alice S. Bookwalter, aged 48 years, died at a private sanitarium Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. She leaves a husband, Jack Bookwalter, one daughter, Mrs. T. Minahan, with whom she lived at 71 West North avenue; three brothers and one sister. The body was removed to Bloomfield-Burkett's chapel to await the return of Mr. Bookwalter to the city, when funeral arrangements will be announced.

France to Tax Signboards.

Passengers from London to Paris will be delighted at the news that the Journey on French soil will be, in all probability, no longer disfigured by the thousands of hideous advertisements that at present line the railway. M. Klotz, the minister of finance, has recently proposed a law by which a prohibitive tax is to be placed upon all such disfiguring boardings. Where, at present these signboards are allowed to stand, the tax will be from one to two shillings each, henceforward, according to the proposed law, the tax will be changed into an annual duty of 75s a square yard of advertisement.

The tax will be doubled or tripled if the sign contain two or three announcements. Moreover, the tax upon the land on which the signs are erected is to be increased by the amount of profit which the landlord derives from allowing their erection, so that all possible inducement to let space for the purpose will be removed. Undoubtedly the effect of such legislation will be even more desirable in France than in England, for in France the evil is greatest.

BLOOD POISON

NOTHING in the world needs such careful methods of such thorough scientific methods as this disease. The cure of this affection is not what it once was, but science and thorough laboratory methods make its cure more positive and absolutely permanent. I have the best and the only office and laboratory for its proper treatment in the south, and nothing superior in the United States. Those who will appreciate the best, call for consultation or send for my pamphlet on the subject.

Office hours, 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. daily; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1.

Kings as Business Men.

(From Harper's Weekly.)

The Kaiser is a great business man and cultivates the friendship of financial leaders of his own and foreign countries. He is said to possess a very large interest in a prominent steamship line and is interested in the great enterprises connected with diamond fields in the German colonies of west Africa. The forest lands which form part of the patrimony of the crown, and other lands which comprise his own real estate, give him an income much greater than that of most of his brother rulers.

The King of Prussia, who is a stock farmer in western Prussia and is the principal shareholder of a municipal brewery in Hanover. He owns a factory for the manufacture of ceramics.

Gustav, king of Sweden, disposed of his accession of all the interests which his father, King Oscar, had in breweries throughout his kingdom and invested the money in mills and mines and what in America we call "model tenements." He began by buying at a low price in the poorer districts of Stockholm land and tumbledown houses. On these sites now appear sumptuous houses that have raised the value of the land and neighboring land 100 per cent. Gustav is also the chief owner in a hotel built in the mountains and run on an ideal plan. It is said the landowners and the municipal authorities of Sweden rally to the support of the king with gratifying unanimity whenever there is a royal hint making toward improvement.

Few monarchs have made such a success in the handling of their wives' dowries as has the present King of Denmark. In recurring financial reversions and reversions of wealth in the royal family he has kept steadily at work multiplying the original dot of the queen. In many of his enterprises he has been associated with his brother, King George of Greece, who possesses an immense fortune, owing to a lucky and accidental stroke of heretofore which had its inception thirty-five or forty years ago, when the ports of southern Russia were closed to the exportation of wheat. The Greek king immediately acquired large interests in wheat lands in the United States, which, managed by his representatives, have yielded him immense returns.

The reigning Prince of Bavaria has a large income from the sale of beer and King George of England makes a good deal with his model stock farms at Windsor, Balmoral and Sandringham. He possesses many hundred head of cattle that have taken first prizes at various exhibitions.

When She Comes Into Power.

Fair Pleader—Finally I submit, your honor, that there is an unsalable reason why my client should not receive the only sentence dictated by the evidence. You have but to cast your eye upon my client to see that one of her—her—oh—full figure would be unmistakably humiliated by being forced to wear prison stripes.

Her Honor—Ha! 'Tis true! Prisoner discharged.

"I understand the professor's wife has a little baby."

"Yes. Delightful, isn't it?"

"Boy or co-ed?"
